Murderous Carla Left 31 Dead

Murderous Hurricane Carla blew itself out deep in the Midwest Wednesday, leaving a trail of at least 31 dead stretching from the Gulf of Mexico to Kansas.

It also left multimillion-dollar damage and a threat of further destruction from floods.

Even in its dying gasps in Kansas and Missouri, the storm took a final swing to bring death to five persons trapped by floodwaters in Kansas. Four died when a station wagon was swept off a highway by floodwaters at Waynesburg, and a fifth when his car was swept over a causeway at Fort Scott.

Tornadoes spawned by Carla took several of the lives. Some perished when they touched power lines broken by the hurricane.

At least ten were dead in Louisiana, eight in Kansas and the remainder in Texas.

Damage Staggering

Along the Texas and Louisiana coast damage was staggering to cities and villages alike.

One of the villages was Port O'Connor. Associated Press staff writer Ronnie Thompson said only a Baptist church stood virtually intact in the town of 950 persons. A handful of homes remaining were so damaged it appeared doubtful they could be rebuilt.

Floodwaters resulting from hurricane tides and the following torrential rains—up to 13 inches—gave Texans another mammoth, complicated problem.

Some of the estimated half million persons who fled ahead of the hurricane before it struck

Monday returned to their homes and businesses. Others could not do so because of remaining high water.

At Texas City, on the mainland across from the island city of Galveston, Gov. Price Daniel told the National Guard to keep out all but heads of households.

Daniel toured some devastated sections and announced he will ask President Kennedy to declare Galveston County a national disaster area. He ordered the National Guard to keep sightseers out of four cities in the stricken county.

A big fear was that epidemics would occur. Water in some places was contaminated. At Port Aransas, fresh water was brought in by boat.

Fourteen cases of measles broke out in Houston's city auditorium where refugees still huddled.

Thousands of refugees remained in hotels, motels, school buildings and other emergency shelters inland, awaiting word from authorities that they could return.

Floods, the impairment of sanitary and water systems and knocked-out electric services delayed the all-clear signal.

There were scattered reports of looting, mostly in the Galveston resort area. Police at Galveston wounded an 18-year-old youth in the foot when they found him in a home not his own. Along with eight others, he was jailed for investigation.

Mayor E. W. Tarrant of Aransas Pass, southwest of Galveston, announced a quarantine for his town and Mustang Island. Boats were used to bring in water and food. The mayor decreed that only those who had received typhoid shots and had a valid reason could enter.

Many towns still were unreachable by land but the clearing of tides from the Galveston freeway for the first time since Sunday permitted residents to start streaming back to the island. Sightseers impeded their return.

Ball Of Fire Excites Area

HOUSES stayed hot long after sundown last night so many a local householder was still outside when a third star appeared near the evening star—suddenly blossomed into a huge red ball that grew and grew, like an expanding balloon, then gradually faded away.

Immediately all the telephone lines in The Daily Record office were jammed with calls.

The Control Center also had its share of telephone calls from curious, disturbed or interested citizens.

A check with the Associated Press disclosed that the "ball of fire" seen by local residents was the second of two brilliant sodium clouds hurled aloft at Wallops Island, Va., by the National Aeronautics and Space Agency.

First to call The Record was Paul Basso, of Annapolis, Md., in East Stroudsburg, who sighted it first as a light trailing a long tail like a comet, with the tail fading out and the whole blossoming into a big red ball.

George Stout, who lives on Chipperfield Drive, also described the 100-foot trail it left and the remaining glow which he described as "opening out like a balloon" adding "It gave you the funniest feeling."

"An explosion," that's how Bob Grable tentatively identified it. A flier for Hamlen, he had just returned to the airport when about 7:58 p.m. he saw a light in the sky with an orange mist behind it which suddenly seemed to explode, ballooning out until it was surrounded by an orange halo.

To Mrs. John Korner at Henryville, the light seemed to be surrounded by a brownish cloud which kept expanding until the object seemed to be hiding behind it.

John Kortright, Eighth St. Stroudsburg, also described it as starting as a "small white light which expanded into a huge red ball."

Patricia Flynn of Shepherd Ave., Delaware Water Gap; Bob Izler of W. Main St. Stroudsburg; Margaret Butz of Sunset Hill; Robert Nealon of Brown and Prospect Sts., East Stroudsburg; Frank Counterman at 12 E. Kistler St., and Mrs. William Frear, Stroudsburg, all gave their own descriptions of the phenomenon.

One Of First

One of the first to call The Record was Brian Farris, of 125 Barnum St., East Stroudsburg.

Shortly afterward, Mrs. George Hiller, of W. Main St. Stroudsburg, reported sighting what appeared at first to be a big bright star and then expanded to at least four times the size of the sun. She said it appeared in the southeast sky near Venus and was visible for about a minute.

Mrs. Edmund Leamy, who was afforded a good view from her home on Beacon Hill Road, said she noticed it as a bright light which seemed to disappear momentarily as if to go behind a big cloud, then grow to a giant orange-red circle.

Reports reaching The Record indicated the spectacle was seen in the Bushkill-Tamiment region and in the upper reaches of Monroe County as well as in the West End.

(What It Really Was)

WASHINGTON (AP)—The National Aeronautics and Space Agency set off brilliant orange and yellow sodium clouds in the upper atmosphere twice Wednesday and started a rash of phone calls and inquiries at newspapers for hundreds of miles around.

Both shots were fired from its Wallops Island, Va., station as part of a study of upper atmospheric winds, temperatures and density. One was at 5:42 a. m. EDT and the other at 7:53 p. m. EDT. Two more tests in the same series are planned.

The night shot was a 145 pound payload hurled aloft by a four-stage Argo D-4 sounding rocket. The package contained a thermite compound which was ignited by an electrical charge, vaporizing the sodium.

The vapor was ejected first at an altitude of 118 statute miles and again at 220 miles, NASA said.

U. N. Troops Capture Elisabethville

LEOPOLDVILLE, the Congo (AP)—U.N. troops seized Katanga's capital, Elisabethville, in a brisk battle Wednesday and the Congo's central government proclaimed the return of that secessionist province.

Force of arms prevailed where 14 months of diplomatic effort had failed to swing President Moise Tshombe's booming, mineral-rich land back under the rule of the debt-ridden Leopoldville regime.

Tshombe fled after denouncing what he called U.N. trickery. Premier Cyrille Adoula of the central government promptly appointed Egide Bolechey-Davidson, a man believed by Western diplomats to be strongly pro-Communist, to administer affairs of the province.

Martial law was proclaimed for Elisabethville while rifle fire still cracked sporadically through its tree-lined streets.

"The secession of Katanga has ended," Adoula declared triumphantly. "Katanga is part of the Congo and will always remain so."

Two soldiers of the U.N. task force—a Swedish major and an Indian infantryman—and 10 Katangans were reported killed in several hours of street fighting.

Community Chest Fund Drive Opens

"THE REALLY important thing behind this campaign is people — people in need of the services offered by Community Chest agencies," Mayor Jesse R. S. Flory of East Stroudsburg declared yesterday morning in a talk launching the Chest's county-wide fund drive.

"We cannot help these people individually, much as we might want to," the speaker pointed out, "but we can fill their needs through the 12 agencies who make up the Chest."

Speaking at a breakfast meeting of campaign leaders and division captains at the Penn Stroud Hotel, Mayor Flory cautioned the workers never to let up in their efforts to attain the 1961-62 quota of $89,807 until the last penny is subscribed.

His final plea was in the form of a warning: "Don't expect your neighbor to do the work; it's up to each individual to make sure the drive goes over the top."

Warner Presides

Daniel G. Warner, campaign chairman, presided at the breakfast and introduced Maxwell H. Cohen, president of the Monroe County Chest and Council. Both men thanked the workers for their interest on behalf of the Chest and urged promptness in lining up solicitors so that the drive can be completed on schedule.

Ethel West, executive director, also urged the captains to complete their list of workers on schedule to expedite the solicitation within the prescribed time.

She distributed supplies to be used in the campaign and announced that the first report meeting will be held Tuesday, Sept. 26, at 4 p.m. at the Penn Stroud Hotel. The annual dinner has been rescheduled for Monday, Oct. 30.

Rev. Norman B. Savage, East Stroudsburg Baptist pastor, delivered the invocation and benediction.

Dominicans Defy Army In Shutdown

CIUDAD TRUJILLO (AP)—Defiant Dominicans by the thousands shut their shops and joined a dramatic funeral procession Wednesday despite a major show of strength by the armed forces.

The procession was for one of four persons killed in political violence Tuesday.

The turnout of troops in battle dress plus the refusal of authorities to permit a funeral Mass in Colon Cathedral stoked up opposition to the regime, and an atmosphere of unarmored revolution seemed to hang over this Dominican capital.

Only a handful of merchants weakened under government pressure to reopen their stores. Shop closings were reported from Santiago, the nation's second city, and there were reports of angry government employees resigning from various ministries.

Thousands of mourners made their way toward the centuries-old Colon Cathedral off the capital's main thoroughfare, Calle el Conde. Uniformed police and plainclothesmen armed with rifles forced people away from a park adjoining the church and turned back thousands of others heading for the Mass.

Inside the cathedral where hundreds waited, it was announced the government had refused to let the body be brought there and had ordered it taken directly to the cemetery.

In a dramatic show of unity, the crowd poured into El Conde and marched toward the cemetery more than a mile away.

Neither police nor soldiers tried to interfere. They stood quietly watching as the line, headed by four prelates accompanied by crucifix-bearing acolytes, filed past.

After a service at the cemetery chapel, the body of the victim, Dr. Victor Rafael Estrella Liz, was lowered into the ground.

U.S. Robot Circles Earth

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP)—A talking, breathing mechanical man orbited the earth and was recovered Wednesday but troubles in the space ship dashed the hope that an American astronaut would soon take the same trip.

An inverter supplying power to the fan in the environmental control system also failed, but a standby inverter took over to do the job.

It was the first time in 10 Mercury flights that a backup system has been called on to come into play, and officials were delighted that the switchover was made without affecting the flight. Walter C. Williams, Project Mercury operations director, said the oxygen system in the spacecraft apparently sprang a leak, and contact with the tape recorder "voice" of the robot was lost over Australia, halfway around.

Otherwise, Williams said, the shot went smoothly and "we feel very good about it." A man who has survived the journey, "as far as we know now," he added, Virgil I. (Gus) Grissom, a veteran of one suborbital flight, said he and the other astronauts were "greatly pleased. We know that we have the booster, the capsule and the tracking network to get the job done."

Next An Animal

But Williams said, "I think we will have to give this another go with an unmanned capsule, or with an animal."

"We're still trying hard to orbit an astronaut this year," he told newsmen, but it appeared that the best bet still would be early next year.

Before Wednesday's shot, an informed source had said that if the environmental control and life support systems functioned perfectly, the decision might have been made to send an astronaut on the next Mercury orbit flight, possibly in October.

Williams said the oxygen leakage would not have been serious if an astronaut had been aboard because there is a reserve system.

An Atlas missile to be used in the next launching is being readied at San Diego, Calif. After it is brought to the Cape, a minimum of five weeks will be needed to complete a checkout.

Already five months behind the Soviet Union in achieving manned orbital flight — and nine months behind the original United States target date — Project Mercury took a big step forward with the latest shot in spite of the capsule difficulties.

A fire-spitting Atlas hurled the spacecraft aloft at 9:04 a.m. and it streaked into almost the exact orbit desired, starting at 100 miles altitude and reaching a peak of 158.6 miles. Its speed of 17,519 miles an hour was only 19 m.p.h. faster than planned. Approaching the west coast of Mexico near the end of the single orbit, the robot fired its own braking rocket without need of a backup radio command flashed from a tracking station at Guaymas, Mexico.

Then began the long descent through 2,000-degree re-entry heat which ended when a parachute dropped the two-ton capsule into the Atlantic 161 miles east of Bermuda at 10:53 a.m., only 39 miles from the intended point of impact.

At 12:14, the destroyer USS Decatur hauled the capsule aboard. It was one of a fleet of recovery ships which had been stationed over a vast area from Bermuda to the Canary Islands off the African coast.

The capsule was to be flown back to the Cape for a check of the things that went wrong. Williams said a decision on the next flight will be made after this examination.

Saw Mill Run Funds OKayed

WASHINGTON (AP)—The House approved Wednesday flood control and navigation projects of interest to eastern Pennsylvania: Bethlehem $1.5 million; Curwensville reservoir $750,000; Delaware River, Philadelphia Naval Base to Trenton, Pa. and N. J., $12 million.

The House Committee allowed $20,000 for an Army Engineer project survey, adding funds above the budget estimate for Saw Mill Run in Pennsylvania.

CHECK ON THE GROUND—Astronaut Virgil Grissom, left, is busy in the blockhouse at Cape Canaveral just before an Atlas missile was sent aloft with a Mercury space capsule. The capsule was successfully orbited around the earth and recovered. (AP Wirephoto)

Would Be 1st In 14 Years

Keystone's Huge Budget Has Chance To Balance

HARRISBURG (AP)—Gov. Lawrence said Wednesday Pennsylvania's huge budget may be balanced for the first time in 14 years.

The governor displayed obvious satisfaction when the report of fiscal aides was issued at his weekly news conference. The chief executive has made a balanced budget a major goal of his administration since taking office in 1959.

"It is a very heartening report," Lawrence asserted. "And of course it is the start of a new day in informing the people of the finanial situation in the state."

Reached at his office in Smethport, Rep. Albert W. Johnson, GOP House floor leader, issued this statement on the administration's fiscal projections:

"Well, the budget was by the fiat of doing the unusual thing, upping the estimate of taxes by $30 million. The governor also ordered all education bills sent back to committee because of lack of $23 million. By the same justification he could have upped estimate of revenues to cover that amount."

"His so-called budget balancing was accomplished also by requiring industry to pay in advance 80 per cent of 1962 taxes in 1961."

"He also has signed a bill putting into this current year $15 million in sales tax payments which actually would be received in the next fiscal year. In other words next year over $100 million of new money will have to be found because of robbing the year of 1962 to pay 1961 bills."

By law, the Commonwealth budget must balance on paper. In the past governors either would inflate revenue estimates or find their projections meaningless because of unexpected economic declines.

When Lawrence took office, he inherited a deficit of $141 million. On the basis of revenue figures released Wednesday, it would appear that the red ink will be erased in the 1961-62 fiscal period.

Lawrence said the administration is "going to bend every effort possible to stay within the (current) budget."

He raised the possibility that he might have to pare some appropriations passed by the 1961 legislature.

Lawrence has consistently threatened to disapprove spending measures for which funds were not provided.

He declined to say which bills might be affected.

Budget Secretary David Baldwin said the general fund revenue estimates — totaling $1,023,854,000 — are conservative.

Republican leaders have contended in recent weeks that there would be a substantial enough surplus to finance proposed education improvements in 1961-62 without passing new taxes.

For that reason, the GOP refused to endorse an administration plan proposed in the 1961 session to levy a 2 per cent tax on unearned income to finance far-ranging improvements. The school program was scrapped for the time being after the tax bill was defeated.

"Progressing Rapidly"

However, the note added: "The Soviet Union's program of testing is progressing rapidly, suggesting that extensive secret preparations for test resumption were undertaken during a major portion of this year's session of the Geneva conference."

Union, GM Talks Stymied

DETROIT (AP)—The prospect of a complete shutdown of General Motors Corp. was near Wednesday as new contract negotiations with the United Auto Workers Union remained snagged on local issues.

The union ordered its members back to work at some 45 of the 129 GM plants where local settlements already have been reached, but the GM chief negotiator, Vice President Louis G. Seaton, said the instructions will have little practical effect.

BULLETIN

DETROIT (AP)—The Federal Mediation and Conciliation Service appealed to members of the United Auto Workers Union Wednesday to effect a quick settlement of local issues barring a contract agreement between General Motors Corp. and the UAW.

still-idle plants will slow production to a halt within days, Seaton said.

Hopes for agreement on a new national contract disappeared earlier when the UAW postponed indefinitely a scheduled Thursday meeting of its General Motors conference, called to wrap up the new national pact.

It had been hoped that a sufficient number of local agreements would be consummated by that time, but union spokesmen said, in effect, that this would not be possible.

Katz Takes Over Scout Troop 300

LESTER Katz took over as chairman of Arlington Heights Boy Scout Troop 300 at a committee meeting held at the Arlington Heights School this week.

Katz commended Ed Hudak and Dr. Perry Stearns, retiring Scoutmaster, and troop chairman, respectively for their work on behalf of the troop and suggested "It's An Honor to Belong to Troop 300" as a slogan.

New assignments in the reorganized troop committee were made: assistant scoutmaster, Walter Marvins; property man, Ralph Knaut; advancement, Bob Decker; transportation, Les Katz; outdoors man, James Meekes Jr.; treasurer, Perry Stearns; secretary and publicity, Maurice Fleisher.

The committee authorized the purchase of a new uniform for the scoutmaster and the purchase of a 50-star American flag with staff and emblem. They set troop committee meetings for the fourth Tuesday of each month with the next meeting on Sept. 25. Parents may obtain further information about the troop by calling Maurice Fleisher at HA 1-4859.

Soviet Fires 2 New Blasts

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Atomic Energy commission, reported the Soviet Union fired two more nuclear blasts Wednesday—the eighth and ninth in the series of Soviet tests.

Like the earlier ones, these detonations were in the atmosphere. The AEC described them as in the low to intermediate range.

The announcement said: "The Atomic Energy Commission announced this afternoon that the Soviet Union conducted two nuclear detonations in the atmosphere today. Both were in the low to intermediate yield range, one in the Semi-Palatinsk area in central Asia and the other in the vicinity of Novaya Zemlya in the arctic region."

The Soviet Union resumed testing 13 days ago, and Tuesday fired a nuclear blast with the force of several million tons of TNT.

Ford To Buy Philco Assets

DETROIT (AP)—The Ford Motor Co. announced Wednesday the purchase of assets of the Philco Corporation.

The amount of the transaction was not announced. The board of directors of each of the firms agreed in principle to the plan Wednesday. It still is subject to approval by Philco stockholders.

Henry Ford II, chairman of the board at Ford, said the purchase will enable Ford "to broaden its operations, to provide entry into new fields and make possible a fuller participation by our company in the national defense and space effort."

Under the agreement, Philco will become a wholly-owned subsidiary of Ford Motor Co. Philco, with headquarters in Philadelphia and 12 domestic plants, is one of the nation's oldest manufacturers of radio and electronic equipment.

Mate To Contest Divorce Action

FAIRFIELD, Iowa (AP) — he husband of Marilyn Van Derburg, former Miss America, said Wednesday he would contest her divorce action.

Gary Nady, 27, head football coach at Parsons College here, said he was advised by his wife's Denver, Colo., attorney Tuesday that she would sue for divorce.

The couple was married June 1, Nady said the attorney, Dayton Denious, did not tell him on what grounds she would base her action.

"There won't be any divorce because she has no grounds for divorce," the former Colorado football star said.

Marilyn, 23, Miss America of 1958, left three weeks ago to participate in the televised portion of the Miss America Pageant at Atlantic City, N.J., last weekend.

RARE FLOWER—Mrs. Elwood Grant, East Stroudsburg RD 3, discovered a white fringed orchid (habernaria blephariglottis) in her wildflower garden this week. A member of the wild orchid family, about 50 varieties of which are found in Monroe County, the white fringed orchid is dainty, fragrant and lives in bogs and swampy meadows. Stalk of flower measures about 12 inches and at its summit displays a three-inch spike of one-inch fringed blossoms, each a typical orchid. Its leaves are narrow and only four inches long. #### Rails Worried Over Reds' Aim

CHICAGO (AP)—E. Paul Gangwere, Reading Railroad president, says steps taken by American railroads in this decade can mean success or failure of Russia's announced aim to become the world's No. 1 power by 1970.

Gangwere told the Allied Railroad Supply Association that Russia is literally running the wheels off its railroads, while in this country billions of tax dollars are poured into other transportation facilities.

He said Russia, with about one-third the railroad mileage of the United States, carries nearly twice the rail freight volume. He asserted that unless Congress approves pending legislation "the effect would be the same as a systematic destruction of the railroads."

Must Take Blame

One of the most Utopian angles in the Communist plan for man is the eventual "withering away" of the state. Russia says this process should be pretty well advanced in 20 years.

Among state agencies due to wither are police and penal institutions. Everything will be free, so why should there be crime?

Actually, however, criminal activity is mounting in Russia.

It has gotten so bad that capital punishment, which was abolished in 1947, has been reinstated for a number of crimes.

Counterfeiting and gross embezzling of public property were added as capital offenses just this year.

In addition, the Kremlin also resorts to a harsh system of forced labor in exile.

Almost all of Russia's present-day criminals have been born and have grown up under the Soviet system. They cannot be blamed on capitalistic iniquities.

Consequently, Communism itself must answer for these snakes in paradise.

Youth Also Can Serve

Among several disturbing reports of youthful rowdiness by crowds on the holiday weekend, one came from a suburb of Indianapolis where the National Hot Rod Association was holding its drag races.

Bars being closed by the state liquor laws, a group representing about one-tenth of the assembled racing fans began a noisy midnight prow for an open tavern.

After police had made a number of arrests, the director of the meet announced that the ringleader in the trouble would never be allowed again to participate in a race held under the association auspices.

In Massachusetts and probably in a number of other states over the same weekend local hot rod clubs had "courtsey cars" on the highways, not to show their speed but to give assistance to stranded motorists without charge. One group helped eight drivers change flat tires.

"We want to show the public that all teen-agers aren't wild kids and reckless drivers," said one of the group.

By putting their mechanical talents to helpful use and by keeping their speed trials to "drag strips" built or set aside for the purpose, these youngsters can help give their clubs a better reputation. —Christian Science Monitor

The Pennsylvania Story

Jam Session Yet To Come

By Mason Denison

Harrisburg — The oracles are insisting that tonight's $100-a-plate Democratic fund raising dinner is merely a prelude to a "jam session" yet to come.

As Democratic greats, near-greats, also-rans and just plain Democrats from throughout the state gather for the festive board touch this evening in the Capital City's Zombo Mosque, soothsayers within the party contend that tonight's "moose-munching" session is nothing compared to the "big trick" they have up their sleeve.

The so-called "big trick" perhaps more aptly could be described as "turning the trick" — with said "turning" destined to take place after September 18.

What is humming in the minds of Pennsylvania donkey-riding chieftains is the turn-in they confidently expect by the time the sun sets on the day of Sept. 18 — the last day in which Pennsylvanians may register for the November general election.

There are those who insist tonight's affair should have been scheduled for after the registration deadline — the confident outlook being on the part of these party old pros that then the festive board gatherings could really have something to hoot and holler about.

Reports funneling into State Democratic headquarters indicate a good, healthy boost in the offing in the form of new registrations for once forlorn Pennsylvania Democrats — new registrations that is, that are expected to swell considerably the registration lead now enjoyed by Pennsylvania Democrats for the first time in the history of the Keystone State.

Democratic chieftains insist these reports from their people in the field show that in nearly every county they are piling up new registrations — in their favor — at an unprecedented rate.

Of course that could be standard political optimism on their part — or it could be most factual indeed.

Not until the final registration figures are officially released after the county by county scores have been tabulated following the Monday, Sept. 18 deadline will the full picture actually be available.

Meanwhile, the Philadelphia registration story threatens to be the standout — with Democratic chieftains there confidently predicting a Demo edge over the GOP of more than 250,000.

The trend in recent years — more particularly since Democratic Governor George Leader huffed into office back in 1955 — has been clearly noticeable, and perhaps indicative.

For example, when Mr. Leader ran for office in 1954, Republicans had a registration lead over their Democratic rivals of 907,114.

By the time the fall elections of last year rolled around this had changed "slightly" — to the point where Pennsylvania Democrats were in the lead for the first time in their lives, although admittedly by only 296,518.

As it stands now — that is, following the 1961 primary and before the final Sept. 18 tally — Keystone State donkey riders have a lead of 119,823.

There'll be reports aglowing at Democratic festivities tonight of the registration surge Democrats are making over their elephant-riding counterparts — to the whoops of delight of the favored brethren on hand.

Democrats have gotten quite "whoppy" anyway at these fundraising "hot dog roasts" in recent years as they watched their star shine brighter and brighter. Perhaps it is just as well that the final results aren't available as yet. They just might get carried away too far!

Off The Record

By Bob Clark

The Stroudsburgs, Pocono Mountains and The Daily Record made the first page of the Tyler, Tex., newspaper last week.

The information, describing our beautiful Poconos, was gathered and written by Bill Dozier, editor and publisher of the Tyler paper.

Dozier picked up his data while attending the recent United States Naval Reserve Seminar at East Stroudsburg State College. A commander, Dozier first corralled first-hand information on The Daily Record at the Columbia University Journalism Seminar where he made the acquaintance of Mr. and Mrs. James Ottaway, the Record publishers, who also were students at the New York City school's news conferences.

The Record secured a cottage for Dozier, his wife and two children for this summer during their recent stay in the Poconos.

In his column, "Rose City Rambler," Dozier pointed out all of the interesting sites, including Delaware Water Gap, Bushkill, Wiponona and Dingman's Falls, Wind Gap, Lehigh Gap, Kittatinny Mountains and, of course, the Pocono Mountains.

He also related the story of Hurricane Diane and showed how peaceful streams can rise and flow destruction and death over a comparatively small area.

A Texan by position but a Louisiana native, Dozier compared the cost of living here and in the Southwest. While he didn't delve too much on the matter he noted that none of the area's accommodation listing rates are inexpensive compared to his home balldick standards.

Tyler is a 30,000 circulation newspaper. If you multiply this figure by four, you get 120,000 readers. Now if they have aunts, uncles and other offsprings scattered throughout the state of Texas, you may reach 200,000. Word of mouth talk will add maybe 50,000 more. So, 250,000 read and hear about the Poconos in just one column.

The Texans like things big. The way Dozier described our picturesque territory, one would easily gather that the Poconos is "the vacationland of America."

In Texas, that's a big man, big.

The Allen-Scott Report

By Robert S. Allen and Paul Scott

Washington — A major break in U.S.-Yugoslavia relations is in the making.

President Kennedy is considering ending or sharply cutting back foreign aid to Yugoslavia as the result of new military intelligence that President Tito plans to support Russia in the coming showdown on West Berlin.

Also, the President is burned up about the way the Communist dictator pushed the Soviet line at the Belgrade conference of non-aligned nations.

During the year ending June 30, the U.S. aid program to Tito's Red regime totaled $147,900,000. Until this week, the State Department was planning to give Yugoslavia about the same amount of aid for the coming year. Tito is seeking double that sum.

Since the U.S. first started giving aid in 1946, Yugoslavia has received a total of $4 billion. Of this grand total, $2.2 billion was in the form of military and economic aid under the foreign aid program.

The other $1.8 billion was given to Tito in the form of grants and loans from the Central Intelligence Agency and other government lending agencies that deal in foreign loans.

The CIA's aid role will be officially denied by Director Allen Dulles; however, details of some of the secret gifts to Tito by the CIA will be reported in later columns.

Ever since the close of the Belgrade conference, President Kennedy and his top advisers have been asking themselves one question:

"What did we get for the $4 billion in aid to Tito?"

In most cases the President's advisers have been answering: "Nothing."

George Kennan, U.S. Ambassador to Yugoslavia, reports from Belgrade that not only has Tito been a consistent spokesman for Khrushchev's line with regard to Berlin, but during the conference there he actually tried to justify the new Soviet nuclear tests.

True Colors — Military intelligence estimates go even further.

One states that Tito can be expected to support Khrushchev on Berlin both at the conference table and with military force if that becomes necessary.

The estimate points out that on questions of international politics Tito has been a consistent supporter of the Soviet position in blocking access to East Berlin and making a separate treaty with East Germany.

Tito also represents an outstanding example to show other nations that it is possible to be far over in the Communist camp and still manage to obtain substantial amounts of aid from the U.S. — larger amounts than some pro-Western nations received.

With these facts in hand, President Kennedy is now reappraising the whole field of U.S.-Yugoslavia relations. He is weighing a recommendation from Ambassador Kennan that all aid should be cut off.

Secretary of State Rusk recalled to Washington from Warsaw Jacob Beam, former U.S. Ambassador to Yugoslavia, to obtain his views. In the past, Beam has been a strong supporter of Tito. As early as 1954 Beam tried to win an invitation from the White House for Tito to visit the U.S.

No Invitation — That long-pending, off-again, on-again proposal to invite Tito for an official visit here is now off-again.

Tito's support of the Kremlin at the Belgrade conference caused the White House to shelve the invitation indefinitely. The President is opposed to it.

However, despite this new opposition by the President and his advisers, Tito is expected to try to confer with Kennedy when the Communist dictator comes to New York later this month to attend the U.S. General Assembly. This international body meets on Sept. 19 and Tito is planning to attend.

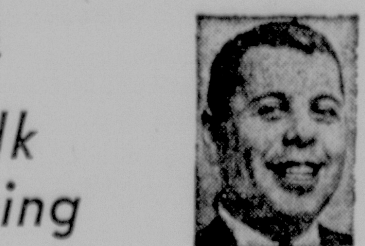

As for meeting with Tito in New York, aides report that the President will cross that bridge when he comes to it. There is one thing definite. The President has no plans to invite Tito to Washington.

Berlin Flashes — President Kennedy is considering sending Averell Harriman, his roving Ambassador, to Moscow to talk with Premier Khrushchev. If Harriman goes, his mission will be to determine if there is anything that the President can negotiate with Khrushchev on West Berlin.

This move is being opposed by General Maxwell Taylor, the President's military adviser, on the grounds that it would be interpreted as a sign of weakness. In the past, Harriman has advocated that the U.S. should recognize Communist East Germany — a demand that Khrushchev is now making on the U.S. in the Berlin crisis.

French intelligence has proof that the Kremlin was behind the recent effort to kill President de Gaulle. When full details are made public, it will make sensational headlines.

Russia has a large supply of small atomic weapons in East Germany for use by their ground forces and air force. Also, the Soviet divisions in East Germany are well trained in the use of nuclear weapons. West German intelligence is warning of possible uprisings in Poland later this fall.

Inside You And Yours

Plain Talk About Flying

By Burton H. Fern, M.D.

Is it safe to travel by plane? If you have heart trouble, clogged sinuses or are an expectant mother whose baby is almost due?

As you climb into the clouds the air thins and the barometer falls. You breathe harder, but still can't inhale your usual quota of oxygen.

Actually, air pressure falls only slightly inside large pressurized planes. You won't notice this change and the slight oxygen lack when you're well. But if you have heart trouble this missing oxygen may trigger serious complications.

If you can walk 100 yards and climb a flight of stairs comfortably without losing your breath, you can probably fly safely in a pressurized plane.

Air Bloats Lungs

Tuberculosis, emphysema and similar ailments often trap air inside your chest. As cabin pressure falls, this trapped air bloats your lungs like a jet engine with a clogged exhaust.

Stopped-up sinuses often open up soon after take-off. But rising pressure can bring on severe sinus pain when you land.

Chew, swallow and blow your nose — pinching both nostrils closed — to prevent earaches as the plane comes down.

Weak anemic blood may not be able to deliver enough oxygen when the air thins. A pre-flight transfusion can thicken this watery blood.

May Irritate Ulcer

High altitude worries can irritate any old ulcer that's still acting up. Don't fly if you think your internal pressures may explode in mid-air!

Clear up all doubts. Keep both feet on the ground until your doctor clears you for take-off! He may suggest a sedative to calm flight-time qualms.

Smooth Flying

For a smooth flight, take a non-stop jet that climbs above bad weather. Sit up towards the wing.

Many airlines won't carry passengers less than 10 days old or expectant mothers in their last month. Other airlines merely want a doctor's guarantee that the stork isn't scheduled to arrive until 72 hours after the plane!

CUTIES

—By E. Simms Campbell

"They had to fire that great trumpet player. He was so loud he was blowing all the customers out of the place."

George Sokolsky

Why Does Crime Rise?

It is difficult to explain why crime increases in the United States. Year after year, J. Edgar Hoover, FBI Director, reports the increase, particularly among young people.

The first six months of 1961 showed an increase of seven percent over the same period in 1960. Although there is a reduction in rape cases, there has been an increase in all other crimes.

It hardly matters if the rate of increase is not as great in one year as it is in another. The fact that there has been an increase at all is indicative of a failure of preventive police work.

Does increased crime have any relationship to increased poverty? There is no evidence that crime increases in bad years. As a matter of fact, crime has been steadily increasing in the United States, regardless of booms.

New York City is an example of increased crime despite the fact that there are no depressed conditions in this city. For instance during the first six months of 1960, there were 18,147 burglaries in New York; during the same period in 1961, the same crimes numbered 18,726.

Similarly, larcenies $50 and over amounted to 25,443 in the 1960 period but increased to 27,526 in 1961. Other cities, particularly such large ones as Los Angeles, showed a marked increase.

The question arises as to why these increases occur. Today, young people have more opportunities for decent organized communal relationships than they had, for instance, in my youth. Boys Clubs, Boy Scout groups, social settlements are available for them now.

In many cities, the police have organized PAL groups which give boys an adequate outlet for their activities. Churches have all sorts of youth groups and youth activities; play areas are attached to schools.

What is the essential problem? Is it perhaps that we keep certain children in schools beyond their capacity for organized learning? Does boredom force them to break out into adventures which have criminal activities?

Unless a young person is interested in French irregular verbs and biologic drawings, what is he doing in such classes? The theory is that a set curriculum disciplines the mind and the character. But is not such a discipline offer by the frightful boredom of doing what has no interest and no purpose for them?

Parents say that all children must go to high school or even to college. Personnel managers will not even look at an applicant unless he can produce some kind of diploma.

So what becomes of the bright fast-minded young fellow who cannot discover the difference between X and Y and who wonders who cares?

He has no intention of building an atom bomb or discovering the shortest route to the moon. All he wants out of life is a decent job, a nice wife, a couple of pretty kids and a glass of beer to go with the hamburgers.

He does not want to be a politician of any kind; he does not even want to be President of the United States. There are such people — millions of them.

They ask little of life and they wonder why anybody wants to force them to know the difference between Aristotle and Plato.

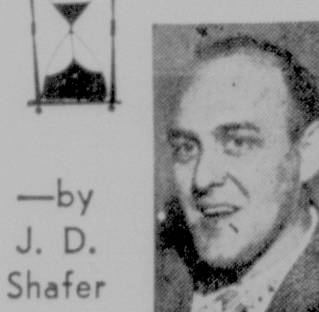

In fact, I received a letter recently from a university graduate who takes me to task for using words which he does not understand (dictionaries are expensive) and who complains about references to persons about whom he never hears, such as Isidore of Seville whom he suspects of being a Jew (an encyclopedia is not too expensive). He would prefer me to be as ignorant as he is, although we both, he says, studied at the same university.

Ignorance may be a virtue if it is called a democracy but it is not essential. It used to be that a man whose trousers were properly creased could not be elected to public office because he was a dude.

To be a real man, a politician had to stink of foul tobacco, rotting whiskey, unwashed teeth — he smelled like a man. Then along came Listerine, Laxorin and similar institutions which made the stink unpopular. Even his best friend would not tell him, but his wife did and he changed his ways.

So ignorance is no longer necessary or desirable. On the other hand, there is no social advantage in forcing young people to be bored by intellectual work beyond their capacity. Perhaps they would do better reading Sokolsky than Shakespeare.

Five Given Jail Terms By Judge

MONROE County Judge Fred W. Davis yesterday sentenced four people to jail terms ranging from 11 months to five years on various charges.

Charles G. Stitzer, 36, of Main St., Stroudsburg, was sentenced to a $300 fine and costs and placed in the Monroe County jail for not less than 11 months nor more than 23 months on the burglary of Sam Block's news store on Main St., Stroudsburg.

Stitzer was given a suspended sentence on another charge of attempted burglary at LeBar's Rexall Drug Store, also on Main Street.

Floyd Keiper, 20, of Allentown, was sentenced on one count of burglary to the Eastern Penitentiary, Philadelphia, for not less than two and one-half years and not more than five years. He also was ordered to pay a $300 fine and costs.

On a second charge of burglary, Keiper was sentenced to not less than two and one-half years and not more than five years, plus $100 fine and costs. This term will run concurrently with the first sentence.

Keiper also was sentenced to not less than one year and not more than two years, plus $100 fine and costs on a third charge of burglary. This will run consecutively with the other two sentences.

He was given a suspended sentence on a charge of malicious mischief.

Suspended Sentence

Mrs. Anna Garrett, also known as Mrs. Anna Roth, 30, of Mount Pocono, was given a suspended sentence, placed on probation for one year. She was fined $100 and costs, and ordered to make restitution of $45 to the Mount Pocono A&P Store on a charge of worthless check passing.

Others jailed were Alexander Coombs to Camp Hill on a burglary charge; and Charles Frace to Eastern Penitentiary for not less than one year and not more than five years. Frace was fined $100 and costs.

John J. Sullivan, 26, of 87 Crystal St., East Stroudsburg, was sentenced to six to 23 months in the Monroe County jail on a charge of parole violation. He was also fined $350 and costs.

Sullivan had been placed on probation for 23 months and fined $500 in May, 1960, after pleading guilty to an assault and battery charge brought by Margaret Transue, Stroudsburg RD. 2.

Naval Attache Crash Victim

PITTSBURGH (AP)—The parents of an American Naval officer killed in a jet airplane crash in Morocco said Wednesday he was being transferred to a new job.

Mr. and Mrs. George Fowler said Lt. Neville Fowler, 27, was on his way to Monrovia, Liberia to become assistant Naval attache.

Area Student Teachers Assigned

THE names of student teachers presently undergoing training in various area schools have been released by Dr. John R. Wildrick, director of Student Teaching and Placement at East Stroudsburg State College.

Named were Miss Judy Casola, Stroudsburg. She is doing her student teaching in first grade at the campus laboratory with Miss Katherine Mertz as cooperating teacher. Miss Casola is in elementary curriculum.

Thomas Savidge, 1026 N. Ninth St., Stroudsburg, at Ramsey School with Mrs. Anna Meixell. He will teach third grade.

Jerome T. Rine, 806 Main St., Stroudsburg, fourth grade at campus laboratory with Miss Catherine Reimard.

Miss Sue Masters, 126 Ridgeway St., East Stroudsburg teaching fourth grade at Arlington Heights with Mrs. Dorothy Dietrick.

Miss Sus Carol Mitchell, Stroudsburg, kindergarten at campus laboratory with Miss Marie C. Brown.

Miss Judy Papon, Stroudsburg, second grade at B. F. Morey School with Mrs. Romayne Roush.

Frank Lupin, East Stroudsburg, health education curriculum, will teach elementary grades at Clearview and secondary at Stroud Union High. Cooperating teacher is T. Manning Curtis.

Edward A. Heimbach, Stroudsburg, health education, will teach elementary at Smithfield and secondary at East Stroudsburg accepted a position as associate editor of Youth For Christ International. Myra, of Stroudsburg RD. 1, held the teaching post six months and is a 1960 graduate of East Stroudsburg State College.

The committee also approved a replacement. She was named as Mrs. Mary Ann Hitzel. She will receive $3,800 per year.

Also hired was Mrs. Eleanor Wunder as a part time teacher for $3,214. The salary is based on calendar year of $4,200.

The committee will hold all its remaining meetings at the new Pocono Mountains Junior-Senior High School at Swiftwater. Classes will begin Monday, Sept. 18 for the 1961-62 school term.

Other Business

In other business, the group approved the payment of $16,675.99 in bills.

It referred back to Policy and Personnel Committee, the hiring of a substitute school bus driver and the hiring of another janitor.

The committee rejected the recommendation of the Building and Grounds Committee to accept the bid of S. R. Nauman and Sons, of Cresco, for constructing a new parking lot.

It was learned that John Nauman is associated with the school board and is related to the construction company. The group decided to reject all the bids received and readvertise for new ones.

The lot will be constructed at the Barrett School.

Nauman and Sons had submitted a bid of $1,229. A second bid received was for $2,680 from Paw Pack Paving Co., Hawley.

Gruenther Restores Trip Here

GEN. ALFRED M. Gruenther, president of the American Red Cross, is coming to the Pocono today, after all.

His trip here was restored late yesterday less than 24 hours after it was announced that he would be forced to cancel his scheduled address at the Pennsylvania Red Cross Conference tonight at Tamiment because of the hurricane disaster in Texas.

Last night, however, a Gruenther aide disclosed that Gen. Gruenther had arranged to fly to New York's Idlewild Airport this afternoon and have someone fly him to a local airport in time for tonight's dinner meeting.

Determined To Talk

A Red Cross official at Tamiment said he understood the retired Army general was determined to keep the appointment because of the serious vein of his address.

Another highlight of tonight's dinner will be the awarding of citations to representatives of two men prominent in Red Cross work in past years. One is Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower, former honorary president of the American Red Cross, and the other is the late Dr. Matthew J. Shields, known as the "father of first aid." The latter's son, Commander H. K. Shields, will accept the citation.

The conference opens at 2 p.m. today and closes Friday afternoon. The Friday luncheon speaker will be John R. Lennahan, a member of the American Red Cross board of governors, whose topic will be "The 1961 Red Cross's Responsibilities."

Kiwanis To Repay Old Debt

STROUDSBURG Kiwanis Club is anxious to repay on old debt. Its board of directors voted yesterday to take whatever steps it can to raise money for the relief of hurricane victims in Texas.

As a starter, the club agreed to make a donation of its own and then to organize other Kiwanis clubs in District 17 in a joint effort to swell the fund.

Elwood German, club president, recalled that Kiwanis clubs from many parts of the country sent contributions to the Stroudsburg club for distribution to needy individuals following the 1955 flood here. He said board members feel that anything that can be done locally to alleviate conditions in Texas will merely be the repayment of an old debt.

At yesterday's club meeting, Elwood Hintze and Dr. T. I. Metzgar showed colored slides they had taken during a trip they and their families had taken to the Hawaiian Islands.

PV Board Hires New Teacher

BRODHEADSVILLE — Mrs. Ruth Davenport was hired last night by the Pleasant Valley Joint School Committee. Her starting salary will be $5,400 a year based on six years of teaching experience.

Mrs. Davenport will teach Spanish. She holds a bachelor of science and master of science degrees.

In other business the committee granted several pupils working papers.

The board also approved the payment of $30,899.64 in bills for the month of September. This amount includes the teachers' salaries.

Hogan Named Assistant Chest Campaign Manager

JOHN F. Hogan, of 1607 N. Fifth St., has been named as assistant to Daniel G. Warner, 1961-62 campaign manager for the Monroe County Community Chest.

The campaign opened officially yesterday. The goal is $39,897, an amount to be shared by 12 member agencies.

Hogan was born and educated in Medfield, Mass. He came to the Stroudsburgs in 1950 under contract to the Pocono Baseball Club, having signed as a pitcher with the Cleveland Indian organization.

Portland To Get New Fire Truck

PORTLAND—The fire truck committee of the Portland Fire Company voted last night to purchase a new 750-gallon pumper for the company.

The decision was reached after a check of Portland's 1934 Hahn fire truck revealed that it was obsolete for fighting fires.

The committee will meet again Wednesday, Sept. 27, with representatives of various fire truck manufacturers and will decide on make and model of truck to be purchased.

The committee agreed that the Borough of Portland needed two fire trucks especially since the company is answering calls from outside the borough limits.

A member of the committee said that the funds for the new truck would be raised from sources outside the fire company and that the price would not be a burden to the taxpayers of the borough.

Countian Cited By Governor

HARRISBURG (AP)—Gov. Lawrence presented awards Wednesday to 32 farmers and food processors cited for providing good camp facilities for migrant laborers.

Second year winners: J. W. Furman Cannery, Northumberland County.

First time winners: Willard Thompson, Clarks Summit; Dymond Brothers, Dallas, Luzerne County; Albert Frantz, Brodheadsville, Monroe County.

Driver Held After Truck Overturns

AN early morning accident yesterday activated both the East Stroudsburg police and Acme Hose Company. No one was injured.

The fire alarm was sounded when a truck driven by Russell E. Olewine, 43, of Palmerton, failed to negotiate a turn at S. Courtland St., and spilled 16 tons of coal along with a quantity of gasoline.

East Stroudsburg police said Olewine was traveling east on Brown St., and failed to make a left-hand turn onto S. Courtland St., at 3:35 a.m. yesterday morning.

Fuel leaked from the gasoline tank of the damaged truck and the Acme Hose Co., was called to guard against a possible fire. One fire truck stood by until the situation was corrected.

Struck Embankment

The truck struck a rock embankment at the intersection of Brown and S. Courtland Streets, turned on its side and spilled the load over one complete lane of the highway (Route 203).

Employees of the borough worked until 8 a.m. to clear the road of the coal.

Damage to the truck was estimated at $1,500.

Committed To Jail

Olewine was committed to Monroe County Jail Stroudsburg, after pleading guilty to a charge of drunken driving. He had a hearing before Justice of the Peace Chester R. Staples, East Stroudsburg, yesterday morning.

He was committed to the jail in default of $500 bail.

Local PSES Plans Survey Sept. 15-21

THE Stroudsburg office of the State Employment Service will take part in another one-week research program, John P. Dougherty, manager of the office, announced last night.

The survey will be conducted Sept. 15 to 21. It will include a sampling of temporary claimants as well as some regular unemployment compensation claimants for comparison purpose.

Dougherty requested the full cooperation of both temporary and regular claimants who will be asked in private interviews to furnish the information. He emphasized that the answers will be kept in strict confidence and will not affect in any way the claimant's rights to present or future benefits.

Other Scheduled

The first survey was conducted from May 19 to 25, 1961. Other survey weeks will be in January and April of 1962.

The studies are required by the Federal Temporary Extended Unemployment Compensation Act of

Housing, Schools Discussed At Depot Meet

HOUSING, schools, and other matters were discussed in a meeting held yesterday at Tobyhanna Signal Depot by a group consisting of representatives of the Wilkes-Barre, Scranton and Pocono Mountains Chambers of Commerce, the Pocono Mountains Joint School, Pocono Catholic Missions School, Tobyhanna Community Council, and Depot officials.

Called By Kale
The meeting was called by Col. L. W. Kale, depot commander, because of the early October arrival of some 238 Army Signal Corps reservists for active duty.

Attending were: S. Kazmerski and A. Day, Scranton Chamber of Commerce; R. Cronin, Wilkes-Barre Chamber of Commerce; L. Mikels, Pocono Mountains Chamber of Commerce; C. Willie Dunlap, Pocono Mountains Joint Schools; Mr. Gallagher and Mr. May, Federal Housing Authority; N. Polumbo, Tobyhanna Community Council; Father Galligan, Pocono Catholic Missions School. Those from the depot attending were: Col. L. W. Kale, commanding officer; Lt. Col. J. Moran, deputy commanding officer; Lt. Col. H. Plunkett, commander of the 972nd Signal Bn; Major G. Kahl, executive officer; Major P. Melton, plans and training officer; Capt. J. Noone, medical officer;

H. Shannon, legal officer; Ray Davies, safety officer; C. Burke, information officer.

Col. Kale opened the meeting after lunch in the troop mess of the 972nd Signal Bn., by announcing that some 238 officers and men of the 840th Signal Co. Base Depot of Philadelphia and the 210th Signal Co. Base Depot of Augusta, Ga., would arrive for arrangement at the depot on October 9 and 11.

Needs, Facilities
A general discussion followed concerning the need for housing, school facilities, recreation for the activated reservists and families. Davies was appointed housing coordinator and all listings of available housing in Luzerne, Lackawanna and Monroe Counties would be forwarded to him by the local chambers of commerce.

Burke was appointed to distribute chamber of commerce literature to the reservists and to coordinate the tours and recreation with the chambers of commerce of Scranton, Wilkes-Barre, and the Pocono Mountains.

Some Grass Doesn't Need Killing

By George Abraham

KILLING GRASS—Many have asked me how to kill grass growing between bricks or stone walks. In many cases grass between the cracks of bricks or stone is desirable in that it holds them in place.

When you mow, you simply mow over the walk, and the green tuft of grass is color. However, there are places where the grass or weeds is not pleasing and you may want to kill the growth without disturbing the bricks or stone. The simplest way I know is to squirt some gasoline onto the grass or weeds.

Within a couple days all growth is stopped or killed. Ammate weedkiller will do the same thing, mixed 1 pound to a gallon of water and drenched on the area.

Tablesalt poured in boiling water will kill the grass and weeds between stones, and some folks have good luck using household borax, simply scattered on the grass.

If you happen to have a long driveway and want to kill all growth in it, then old motor oil is an inexpensive way to handle this problem.

Maple Trees

Now that hot fall weather has hit, many home gardeners are alarmed when shade trees shed their leaves in a hurry. Here again it's no cause for alarm, because the trees cannot supply all the moisture the leaves need, so it has to jettison its leaves to ease its load.

A good sized maple tree will give off 150 gallons of water on a hot day, and by shedding these leaves it conserves moisture. Watering a tree is not practical unless you can soak it for a couple days.

Fine House Plant

To me the variegated coleus are among the finest indoor and outdoor plants we have. Coming in a stunning array of colors, they are ideal for beds, borders, water fountains, porch and window boxes. While the bluish flower spikes are attractive, the plants do best if these are nipped off.

Now's a good time to take cuttings from your coleus. Just pinch off the tips (these plants love to be pinched) and root them in plain tap water. Within two weeks or so there'll be a mass of white roots in the water, and you're ready to transplant.

Coleus grow in sun or semi-shade. You get your best colors in full sun, but most lush growth in dappled shade.

Rhubarb Rot

Why does rhubarb rot in the ground? First, remember that rhubarb does best in the cooler parts of the country. It does not do well in hot weather. This delicious herb develops a disease known as Crown or "Foot Rot" (repeat "foot") causing sunken spots at the base of the leaf stalks, followed by wilting and rotting.

Usually the entire plant dies and disappears. Dig out and burn diseased plants, being extra careful not to scatter infected soil or parts to the rest of the rhubarb bed.

Disinfecting the spot with formaldehyde (1 teasp. to a quart) will kill the organism responsible, but it's a good idea to plant in a new spot.

Lawn Notes—I've been asked by new lawn makers if weedkillers should be used on seedlings which have just come up.

You often, in fact almost generally do get weeds along with a catch of blue grass, fescue and other permanent lawn grasses. I never worry about the young weeds which come up with the grasses, because their biggest enemy is the lawn mower.

You mow the grass when it's about 2 inches high and the weeds cannot tolerate the close cropping which grass gets. So my advice is not to add weedkillers to a newly seeded lawn at this time, because the lawn mower will take care of the weeds.

If you're concerned about clover, mowing will not kill it. Clover volunteers in most lawns.

mainly because the seed lies dormant in the soil for years. Various weedkillers will knock it out, but if you're a rough-and-ready gardener, better think twice before you start to fight clover.

Do you have to be a "rich bug" to own a small greenhouse? No, you don't! Time was when only rich owned one, but now a backyard greenhouse is within the reach of most Americans. If you're handy with a saw and hammer you've got it made because it takes but a little carpentering skill to erect a glass house the size you want. Many commercial firms have plans for a greenhouse, selling supplies ready to put together. As for culture, and what you can do for fun and profit, this depends on the type of plants you want to grow. Starting your own annuals for spring beds, geraniums, tuberous begonias, and scads of other items might bring you enough money back to pay off the cost within a few years.

Want to know more about Greenhouse Gardening? Send me a self-addressed, stamped envelope and ask for a copy of my brand new bulletin, "Questions and Answers About The Home Greenhouse."

Our guide is full of tips, based on letters you've asked me regarding backyard greenhouse work. It makes a fine addition to your green thumb library. Do not send me loose stamps, clippings or postal cards.

Question Box

QUESTION of the week: D. E. of Stroudsburg: "We have a shady spot in front of our foundation and would like to grow shrubs there. It has sun until the trees leaf out and then it's shady from then on. Could you name some shrubs for the front of our home?"

First, let me say it's not natural for most shrubs (especially flowering) to grow in shade, but the situation is not hopeless because many will take semi-shade.

Here are a few: Lily of the valley shrub (Pieris), Mountain Laurel, Rhododendron, Barberry, coralberry, Yews, privet, Oregon grape holly, flowering quince, dogwood, American Holly, Hemlock, Tatarian Honeysuckle, to name a few.

For vines in shade, try Bittersweet, Evergreen bittersweet (Euonymus), English Ivy, Boston Ivy, Vinca, Pachysandra and Hall's honeysuckle. If your situation is so shady, then go to the woods and dig up clumps of fern and transplant them to the front of your home.

A. B. of Bangor: "Please tell me if ammonia water and vinegar are good for fertilizers for house plants. I heard they were."

Ammonia water does add some nitrogen to the plants, but the amount is too small to be significant. You might better feed your plants a good liquid plant food and be sure of giving them not only nitrogen, but phosphorus and potash as well.

Regarding vinegar, this is not a fertilizer but is ideal for acid-loving plants such as gardenias, azaleas, hydrangeas and rhododendrons. It's not the acid these plants want, but when the soil is acid, usually this liberates iron and other elements which are free for the plant to absorb.

In other words, it's the iron, or aluminum which acid-lovers want, rather than the acid itself. Natural vinegar contains some plant-building materials needed by acid-loving plants.

If you want to make your soils acid for azaleas, hydrangeas or gardenias, then use one level tablespoon of vinegar per gallon of water (preferably rain water, water from melted snow, or condensate water).

As to frequency in watering, make three or four waterings, or even more throughout the growing season.

D. R. of Portland: "I took your advice last fall and covered my dahlia roots (instead of digging them). Not a one was lost in winter, but they are blooming about 3 weeks later than usual, and are about 4 1/2" high instead of 6" or better."

Next year I'm going to take the roots from the cellar, pot them up a month ahead and let them get started in the pots. This gives me blooms by late

Dear Abby

Dear Abby: Please don't think I am small, but I have a question to ask. Don't you think a woman who claims to be a good friend should entertain her "good friends" in her living room? Whenever I visit this person she leads me right to the kitchen!

She puts the coffee pot on and we sit there all during my stay. She has a lovely home, a beautiful coffee service and gorgeous dishes, but all I ever see is her kitchen and everyday dishes. Am I wrong?

INSULTED

Dear Insulted: No, Your friend was wrong to assume that you

June or July. Mine won't be left in the ground for the winter. Just thought your readers would be interested to know how I grow my dahlias."

Green Thumb note: Thank you for your suggestions. They will be helpful to all.

Reverse Twist

were a person with whom she could be herself without fuss or frills. You should feel flattered, not insulted.

Dear Abby: I would like to point out to Mrs. Citizen, who thinks our country is going to the dogs because our teen-age girls try to look older, that this is not nearly so offensive as some of our big, fat, gray-haired old women who appear in public with bare backs, skin-tight Capri pants, and shorts so short they disappear when the women sit down. When mothers (and grandmothers) start dressing their age, perhaps our teen-agers will have an example worth following.

C.S.M.

Dear Abby: What's wrong with our Daddy? Our mother passed away last April. After the funeral I went back home, as I am married. My brother went back to college. When we came back, almost six months later, we found all of Mamma's clothes, shoes, hats, and purses just like she was on a visit somewhere and was coming back to wear them. We would feel better if Daddy cleaned out the drawers and closets and got rid of these sad reminders. Should we tell Daddy to do this? He feels bad enough, and we hate to make him feel worse.

JEAN AND JOE

Dear Jean and Joe: For the moment, don't say anything. Yr Daddy might decide soon himself that he wants to get rid of the reminders. If a year passes, and nothing is moved, suggest Mamma's room be painted another color, and her things given to someone who can get some good use out of them. If he resists your suggestions — don't press it.

MISS Nancy Megargle, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. O. Wardell Megargle Jr. has returned to Kutztown State College for her second year.

The picnic held Sunday night by the Altar & Rosary Society of St. Mary of the Mount Church, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Caluguir, Sterling Road, was well attended. Miss Ellen Regan was chairman of arrangements.

The first meeting of the season will be held Monday night, Sept. 18 by Pocono Memorial Unit 903, American Legion Auxiliary, at the home of Mrs. John Sutton. It is expected that the project, "new hospital bed mattresses" will be concluded at this meeting.

Mrs. Ida Warner has returned after a short visit at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Harold Stiff, Stroudsburg.

7 Named To Units Of VFW

ROBERT Hachtman, commander of Thomas P. Lambert Post 2540 VFW, Stroudsburg, named seven men to three committees at a recent meeting.

Phillip Whitman was appointed membership chairman for the 1962-63 year; Lawrence Savercool, chairman of the past presidents and commanders banquet, and Fred Feiler, chairman of the United Veterans' organization committee.

Other members of the veteran's organization committee are Savercool, Robert Brinn and Forrest Haney. Howard Doll, Monroe County Veteran's Affairs Officer was named delegate at large.

In other post business Richard Rugg, commander of the George N. Kemp Post 346 American Legion, East Stroudsburg, was greeted and a report from George Straka on the National VFW convention in Miami Beach, Fla., was given.

Straka said that he would be leaving for Baltimore, Md., to attend the Eastern States Conference this Friday.

Black Squirrel Spotted

BLACK squirrels may or may not be common but one was spotted last night by Sherwood Gower of 513 N. Fifth St., Stroudsburg.

The youngster, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Sherwood Gower, said he saw the animal about 6:15 p.m. near his home.

Gower reported the squirrel, carrying nuts in its mouth, raced up a tree, came down then disappeared behind Johnson's Service Station, Fifth St.

Three Millionth Patent Issued

WASHINGTON (AP)—U.S. patent No. 3,000,000 has been issued to a Californian who, quite by coincidence, can claim a link with patent No. 1 issued 125 years ago.

The milestone patent was granted to Dr. Kenneth R. Eldredge, 52, of Menlo Park, Calif. It covered a pioneering invention which has speeded electronic processing of bank checks.

Two years ago the same inventor was granted patent No. 2,910,012 which represents an improvement on No. 1 granted in 1836 to John Ruggles, a senator from Maine.

Ruggles developed a locomotive wheel with superior traction power. Eldredge increased the traction and his advancement now is used on rail lines crossing the mountains of the Far West.

Patent No. 3,000,000 covers a device which reads bank checks electronically by deciphering symbols printed on them in a special magnetic ink.

Systems using the Eldredge "check reader" already are in wide use and millions of Americans are familiar with checks bearing the magnetic markings.

Eldredge, a staff scientist at the Stanford Research Institute, began work on his check reader in 1950. He applied for the patent in 1955.

Plans Divorce

FAIRFIELD, Iowa, (AP)—The husband of Miss America of 1958, Marilyn Vanderbur, said yesterday, her plans for a divorce are a "complete shock. I had no idea anything was wrong."

Gary Nady, 27, head football coach at Parsons College, said he was expecting a telephone call from his wife in New York City Monday night, telling him when she would fly home Tuesday. But only a lawyer's call came, citing divorce action.

Fish Photo Wrong Lake, Wrong State

HARRISBURG (AP) — If you think there's something fishy about the Pennsylvania Fish Commission's directory this year, you're right.

That picture showing a lake, a boat and three men—one holding a fat catch—is not a Pennsylvania lake after all. It's California's Lake Shasta.

The truth came out Monday when the Lake Shasta Chamber of Commerce identified the picture while paging through the commission brochure "Public Fishing and Boating Properties and Facilities."

Fish commission officials conceded Tuesday they had made a mistake.

Poconos Picture?

"We thought the picture was of Lake Wallenpaupack in the Poconos," said Paul F. O'Brien, administrative secretary.

Another commission official told newsmen, the "fishy" photograph came from commission files.

"We aren't certain where it was taken," he said. "We have drawers full of fishing pictures and don't always have captions. We get them from all over the country. This one probably came from an outboard motor manufacturer."

Gilpin Elected Master

STERLING — Community Grange 2056 elected Clifford Gilpin as master during a meeting held at the grange hall as the first of two September sessions.

Chosen to serve for 1961-62 were Irvin Doyle, overseer; Mrs. Bernice Dolan, lecturer; Fred McLain, steward; Leonard DeGroot, assistant steward; Mrs. Clifford Gilpin, chaplain; Mrs. Lawrence Simons, treasurer; Mrs. Lewis Osborn, secretary; J. Robert Burdick, gatekeeper; Mrs. Katherine Utter, Ceres; Mrs. Harry Frick, Pomona; Mrs. Fred McLain, Flora; Mrs. J. Robert Burdick, lady assistant steward; Mrs. Myron Moore, executive committee; Mrs. Bernice Dolan, pianist; Mrs. Glen Stevens, juvenile matron.

Two Hospitalized
During the meeting it was noted that two members are hospitalized. R. Nevin Gilpin is a patient at the University Medical Center in Philadelphia and Leon Heberling is a surgical patient at Hahnemann Hospital, Scranton.

The grange will meet again on September 23 at the hall with Mr. and Mrs. John Whitaker and Mr. and Mrs. Howard Barnes as the serving committee. Featured will be a flower and houseplant show with Mrs. Ralph Wert, of South Sterling, as judge.

19 Year Old Negro Admits Thrill Killing

BELLEVILLE, Ill. (AP)—Joseph R. Rhodes, 19, held on two armed robbery charges has admitted a "thrill killing" of a church deacon and the wounding of three other persons in separate incidents, authorities said yesterday.

Deputy Sheriff Joseph Koch said Rhodes, who is from East St. Louis, Ill., signed a statement admitting the crimes.

Rhodes, a Negro, was discharged from the Army a few months ago.

"It was just for an act of violence—just for the thrill," Koch quoted him as saying of the June 14 fatal shooting of William Rogers, 50, a Negro, deacon of St. Matthew Baptist church in East St. Louis.

"It could have been anybody who would have come along," Koch quoted Rhodes. "I wanted to kill one person that day."

Koch said Rhodes told of firing four shots at a man in the cab of a locomotive in the rail yards at East St. Louis July 14 because of an impulse.

Husband, Wife Sentenced To One Week In Jail

LONDON (AP)—Earl Bertrand Russell, 89, philosopher-pacifist, sent to jail yesterday, starting a seven-day sentence for refusing to keep the peace.

Also sentenced to serve a week was his wife, Lady Russell, 61—the former Miss Edith Finch, an American writer.

She stood beside the slender, white-haired earl in Bow Street Magistrates Court, and joined him in refusing to abandon support of a public demonstration next Sunday against nuclear bombs.

Police charged that Earl and Lady Russell, and 35 others who appeared in court, by pamphlets and speeches, incited people to commit a breach of the peace.

Three of the followers were sentenced to two months, 27 to one month and five were released on their promise to cease inciting "seditious" conduct.

TV Highlights

HENRY CALVIN and Gene Sheldon, who played the buffoonish Sgt. Garcia and the lovable mute servant Barnardo on TV's "Zorro" series, are teamed again in Walt Disney's version of the famed Victor Herbert musical-comedy "Babes in Toyland" . . . Home-run sluggers Mickey Mantle and Roger Maris will appear on "Perry Como's Music Hall" Wednesday, Oct. 4, when the NBC variety hour launches its new season.

"Winter Carnival at Sun Valley," one of the ABC specials of the new season, will be seen on Friday, Feb. 23, and will headline Gordon and Sheila MacRae, Jack Carter, Louis Armstrong, Dick Button and Roberta Peters. . . . Hugh O'Brian has signed to star in "Up Jumped the Devil," a full-hour drama to be presented on the new "Dick Powell Show".

Audie Murphy is trapped by unseen hands and unforgettable terror when he portrays an adventurer who is hired to fly a cargo to Bermuda on the "Suspicion" drama at 7:30 p.m. on ch. 5 . . . Host Bud Palmer and a group of National Football League announcers present highlights of the league's history and a preview of the coming season's teams on "Summer Sports Spectacular" at 7:30 p.m. on ch. 6 and 7.

Singer James Darren is guest for the premiere episode of the fourth season of "The Donna Reed Show" at 8 p.m. on ch. 6 and 7, when Donna sees Mary through an emotional crisis. Carl Betz, Shelley Fabares and Paul Peterson star on the series.

Carolyn Jones co-stars with John Payne, who saves a man from hanging and then discovers that he has been responsible for the escape of a cold-blooded killer, on "Frontier Justice" at 8:30 p.m. on ch. 2 and 10 . . . John Forsythe, as Bently, finds himself in a ticklish situation when the daughter of a man he is defending in a divorce action gets a crush on him on "Bachelor Father" at 9 p.m. on ch. 3 and 4.

Don Grady, as Robbie, heads his father's suggestion and applies his history instructor's unusual teaching methods in court- ing a new girl friend on "My Three Sons", co-starring Fred MacMurray, William Frawley, Tim Considine and Stanley Livingston, at 9 p.m. on ch. 6 and 7 . . . Robert Stack portrays Elliot Ness, who discovers a plan to flood Chicago with bottled champagne on New Year's Eve, 1932, on "The Untouchables" at 9:30 p.m. on ch. 6 and 7.

380-Foot Fall Kills Painter

MONACA, Pa. (AP) — A 380 foot fall from a smoke stack killed a 54-year-old painter from New York Wednesday at the St. Joseph Lead Co.

Dr. John W. Colavincenzo, Beaver County coroner, said Frank Fox of Brooklyn fell after a rope snapped from his boatswain's chair.

Action Of Bangor Council

BANGOR—The following action was taken at Monday night's meeting of Bangor Borough Council:

Authorized the installation of 10 new street lights on the new area of Route 191, from Pennsylvania Ave. north. Also the replacing of 10 other lights on the same street on Pennsylvania Ave. south.

Herbert R. Imbt, Stroudsburg, was awarded the bid to make the repairs on W. High and S. Seventh Streets at his low bid of $5,093.95.

Other bidders were J. H. Beers, Bangor, $5,297.05 and Collins and Maxwell, Easton, $5,927.70.

The PUC officially notified the borough that the Bangor Water Co. was granted a 30 percent increase in rates effective Sept. 1. C. and T. Affiliates, sewer contractors, were instructed by council to restore Pennsylvania Ave. according to contract at their discretion. Two members of council, William Holland and Horace Jennings, voted against the action.

During the 30-year period from 1910 to 1940, the population center of the United States moved westward slowly. The six centers were all in Indiana, four of them crowded together.

Only the memories of summer remain.

Teeners Had Ball In Summer

By Eugene Gilbert
President of the Gilbert Youth Research Co.

FOR most teen-agers, as for most adults, life is compounded of days on end of dreaming and waiting.

All winter and all spring, the student dreams and waits for his summer vacation, plotting the things to do, the fun to be had, the places to be visited when freed from the demands of the classroom.

And then suddenly vacation time arrives. And, even more suddenly, it's over.

Did all the dreaming and the waiting come up to expectations? Was the vacation a truly memorable one? Did the vacationer do the things he wanted to do or was he disappointed in his hopes and dreams?

We asked these questions of a random group of teen-agers across the country and found that for most of them the summer vacation was all that they had hoped for. And most were looking forward to going back to school.

Sixty-three per cent of the boys and 62 per cent of the girls reported that they had been able to do pretty much what they wanted on their vacation.

For slightly more than half of the satisfied vacationers (55 per cent of the boys and 54 per cent of the girls) the thing they wanted to do most, and were successful in accomplishing, was finding a summer job.

The non-working minority amused themselves by going to camp, traveling, going to the beach, fishing, mountain climbing, attending theater and music festivals, going to summer school, sailing, and hundreds of other summer pastimes.

One Third Unhappy
So much for the satisfied youngsters. The three out of 10 (30 per cent of the boys, 29 per cent of the girls) who didn't get to do what they wanted to do had various complaints ranging from not being able to find the right job to being disappointed in plans for a European cruise.

"I was forced to go to camp," was the lament of a 14-year-old New Yorker who would have preferred staying in the city with his buddies.

Shirley Ann Brewer, a 16-year-old disappointed vacationist from Mount Pleasant, Mich., had the oddest complaint. "I wanted to learn how to fly," she brooded, "but my father was too busy." Her father, it turned out, is a flying instructor.

Other vacation thrills included such experiences as attending a conservation camp, buying a car, going on a fishing trip, winning a tennis tournament, playing bit parts in summer stock, taking part in a summer writers' conference, counseling at a boys camp and for quite a few finding a new boyfriend or girl friend.

Wanted To Be Alone
Kathy Gemmell, 18, of State College, Pa., struck a happy anti-social note in describing her most exciting summer experience: "I spent three weeks alone at home while everyone else was away."

We also asked the youngsters whether they had any unusual summer experiences. The responses ranged from being "beaten up by a bully outside Yankee Stadium" to "going to a night club for the first time." But the most unusual experience of all befell Greg Paulson, 17, also of State College, Pa.: "My car broke down in the middle of the Everglades Swamp."

Girls (55 per cent) more than boys (46 per cent) were inclined to think their vacation too short, while 44 per cent of the boys and 33 per cent of the girls pronounced it "just right" in length. Only 6 per cent of the boys and 4 per cent of the girls deemed their vacation "too long."

Salvation Army Sets Up Fall Schedule Of Events

A FULL program of activities for the Fall have been scheduled by the local Salvation Army Corps.

The Corps Council met at the Citadel and reorganized the schedule for the coming months.

Included in the program is Rally Day on Sunday, Sept. 24. This affair will be preceded by three days of visitation with Captain and Mrs. William Carlson, Divisional Youth secretaries as special guests.

Also listed are: Reorganization meeting for Sunday School, Friday, Sept. 29; Harvest Festival, Oct. 9; Y. P. Annual and Teachers recognition Sunday, Oct. 22; United Divine Service Sunday, Nov. 5; Candidates Sunday, Nov. 12; Thanksgiving service Wednesday, Nov. 22 and Corps Cadet Congress in New York City Oct. 13-15.

The corps also announced the meeting of Sunbeam troop and Boys Club at 4 p.m. Thursday followed by the Girl Guard and Senior Guard troop meetings at 7 p.m.

The High Grade Corps Cadet class is scheduled for 6 p.m. Friday with Edward Reinheimer in charge.

The Sunday School bus will make the regular stops for the Young People on Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday and transport the group to the Citadel.

Carla Victim Lived On Roof

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP)—A former paratrooper, Clarence Weber, trapped by tidal floods, spent three of Hurricane Carla's days on the flat roof of a cowshed.

He shared the roof with ducks, dogs, opossums and rattlesnakes. Weber, 38, a Texas City welder, rested in Houston's Veterans Administration hospital Wednesday. "I didn't think I was going to make it. I just kept praying that that cowshed would hold up," he said.

Tuesday morning he grabbed a floating log and paddled to a small shed on higher ground nearby.

"There was water in the little shed, but I was able to get out of the wind and rain," he said. Two policemen rescued him about two hours after he reached the shed, Weber said.

Just Between Us —

—By Bobby Westbrook

There are certain gripes which all newspaper women have in common and when they get together—your ears might burn. Such things as married women using their Christian names, for instance, for news purposes.

Except when they are professional women with their telephones listed in their own names, the practice makes it impossible for the general public to identify anybody, for one thing; and for another it's socially incorrect. Sally Jones may be all right but not Mrs. Sally Jones, even if she's a widow.

But there's one major gripe which I never have been able to share—and that's PTA meetings. In fact I cherish our local PTAs. Whether it's training or interest, I can't say; but the PTA publicity chairmen are the ones who report what the man said rather than merely listing names.

Consequently, some excellent and very sound educational news comes out of the PTA meetings—often with more value than "boughten" articles by experts because it has a local application.

But speaking of local application, the biggest story of the night last night, judging by the telephone calls to the office, was that phenomenon in the sky which kept all of the phones ringing at once for a while.

It scared some, made others curious, and fascinated every one who saw it. By the time the phones had stopped ringing whatever it was, was gone, but it certainly made a cool oasis in a very hot night—looking for it.

In fact, I was willing to volunteer to go out and stand on the cool lawn for the rest of the night watching to see if it came back, but it seemed that I could be more useful—if also a lot more uncomfortable—in the hot office where not even a firefly was willing to venture let alone the man from Mars or whatever.

Krawitz On Taxes At GOP Council

Edwin Krawitz was the guest speaker at the first Fall meeting of the Monroe County Council of Republican Women held yesterday afternoon in the ballroom of the Penn-Stroud Hotel.

He had as his theme the increase in taxes and the extension of the sales tax.

Mary Fontanella, vice chairman of the Monroe County Republican Committee, also spoke and reminded members that Monday will be the last day for registration of voters to vote in the November elections.

Plans were made at the board meeting which preceded the meeting for a white elephant sale at the October meeting.

Mrs. Carl Wagner presided at the meeting. Refreshments were served afterwards from a table decorated with a centerpiece of Fall flowers and silver services by Mrs. Alford Meyers, Mrs. Otto Paulson, Mrs. Paul Holloway, Mrs. Frank Harrington, Mrs. Charles Reinhart and Mrs. Elmer Christine.

Deanery Board At Dinner For Msgr. Sullivan

Members of the board of directors of the Monroe-Pike Deanery of the Diocesan Council of Catholic Women attended a dinner party at the Hotel Casey, Scranton this week given in honor of Very Rev. Msgr. Edward T. Sullivan, spiritual director of the Diocesan Council.

Msgr. Sullivan, a priest for 18 years, was elevated to the rank of Papal Chamberlain by Pope John XXIII, a distinction conferring the title of Very Rev. Msgr.

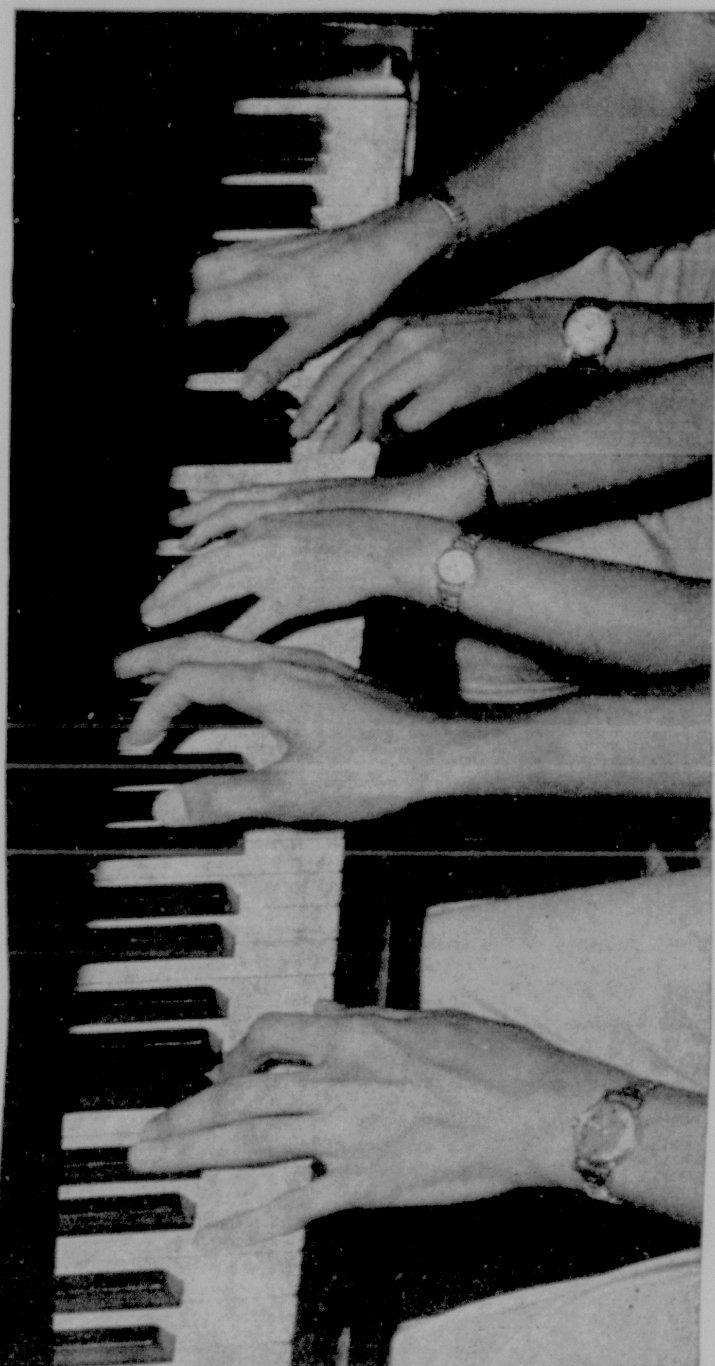

Among the 350 friends and relatives attending the dinner were Mrs. James Cummings, Stroudsburg; Rev. William Cusick, Mrs. Michael Chopko, Mrs. Marie McKenison, Mrs. Thomas Grady Jr. and Mrs. John Sutton, all of Mt. Pocono.

Msgr. Sullivan, one-time assistant pastor of St. Matthew's in East Stroudsburg, is now director of the Little Flower Camp, Tobyhanna; assistant spiritual director of the Confraternity of Christian Doctrine, the Catholic Daughters of America and the Junior Catholic Daughters.

Music for the dinner was directed by Norbert Betti and included Marilyn Coar, pianist, and soloists, James Mullens and Lena Ferretti Solomon.

THE LANTZ CHILDREN: Jere 12; Barbara Jo, 9; and J. D., 14 are shown preparing for the concert which they will present at the kick-off meeting of the Pocono Community Concert membership workers on Monday night at 7 at the Penn-Stroud Hotel.

Clearview PTA Names Chairmen

Clearview Parent-Teachers Assn. committees for the year were appointed at the executive board meeting held at the school this week with Mrs. Chester Miller president, presiding.

Activities of the chairmen were discussed as well as possible projects and ideas to be undertaken during the coming year.

The first PTA meeting will be held Oct. 9 at 8 p. m. at the school. Membership is open to all parents of children attending the Clearview School and Mrs. Miller urged that all prospective members be encouraged to attend the first meeting.

Mrs. Miller appointed the following chairmen: Membership, Mrs. Samuel Saunders and Mrs. George Mensch; treasurer, Mrs. Richard James; program, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Jones; hospitality, Mrs. John Stoddard and Mrs. Frank DeRosa; budget and finance, Mrs. Albert Poorman and Mrs. Calvin Flory; home room representatives, Mrs. Leo Achtman and Mrs. Gene Combs; legislative and safety, Stephen Gereki; librarian, Mrs. Daniel Bythewood; publicity, Mrs. Gerald Snyder.

Also serving on the board are Mrs. Richard Lindroth, past president; and Ralph Knauff, principal of the Clearview Elementary School.

Installation Dinner Planned

Tobyhanna — The Altar and Rosary Society of St. Ann's Parish, Tobyhanna, elected new officers at the September meeting held this week in the parish auditorium.

A committee including Mrs. Jennie Rice and Teresa Paluka was named to make arrangements for a dinner when the newly-elected officers will be installed. A social followed the meeting.

GOP Council Calls Special Board Meeting

A special executive meeting of the Pocono Mountain Council of Republican Women will be held tonight at 8 at the home of the council president, Mrs. Hakstead Ellison, Denbigh Hill Day Camp, Paradise Valley.

All committee chairmen and officers are asked to be present for the meeting, the first since June.

The meeting will also mark the deadline for reservations for the Northeast Regional Political Activities Committee meeting at Gus Genetti's in Hazleton on Tuesday, Sept. 19. Members wishing to attend may call during the board meeting tonight, TE 9-7098 and their names will be added to the letter which will be mailed right after the meeting.

Cars will meet in Mount Pocono at 8:15 a. m. on Tuesday morning and expect to return to Mount Pocono about 3:30.

Ever-Welcome Class

Kick-Off Concert By Youngsters

Workers in the Pocono Community Concert membership campaign which opens its intensive one-week drive next Monday will go the professional concert season one better.

First concern for the season will be Gold and Fiddle, noted duo pianists, who following their appearance at the local college auditorium will be featured, for the fourth time, with the New York Philharmonic orchestra under the direction of Leonard Bernstein.

Not two but three pianists will be featured at the kick-off meeting for campaign workers on Monday night at 7 at the Penn-Stroud Hotel. They will be the three children of Mr. and Mrs. Jack H. Lantz, 233 East Brown St., East Stroudsburg.

The youngsters, ranging from 9 through 14, have studied under Wallace Hornbrook and for the past two years have been students of Mrs. Arthur Low. J. D. Lantz, 14, is a student in the ninth grade and Jere, 12, is a student in the seventh grade at East Stroudsburg Junior High School. They both have studied piano for four years.

Barbara Jo, 9, is a fourth grade pupil at the Campus Laboratory School and has studied piano for 3½ years.

Their program on Monday night will include solos, duets and trio numbers.

Barbara Jo will play "Solfegetto" by C. P. E. Bach; and "Aragonesa" by Jules Massenet.

Jere will play "Polonaise (Military)" in A Op 49 by Frederic Chopin and "Scotch Poem" Op 31 by Edward MacDowell.

J. D. is scheduled for "Cumana," Barceley Allen and "Polichinelle," Serge Rachmaninoff. Jere and J. D. will conclude the program with a duet "Exodus" by Ernest Gold; and midway in the program Barbara Jo will join them in "Clayton's Grand March" for six hands by Charles D. Blake.

Some 50 captains and workers in the membership campaign have been invited to hear the talented youngsters. The working teams received their material last week at a coffee at the home of the campaign director, Mrs. Berton George, White Heron Lake.

The campaign itself will end on Sept. 23, after which no tickets will be available for the season's series. Headquarters will be in the Penn-Stroud Hotel lobby next week and will be open from 10 a. m. to 5 p. m. to receive returns.

Stroud Club Board

The Stroud Community Women's Club will hold an executive board meeting tonight at 8 at the home of Mrs. William Morgan, 549 Oak St., Stroudsburg.

Fall Fashions Score At Mt. Pocono

Mount Pocono — Highlight of the September meeting of the Mount Pocono Fire Co. Aux. was the Fall Fashion Show with clothes from Wyckoff's modeled by members of the auxiliary with the descriptions by Madelyn Maloney.

Stealing the show were two little girls, Wendy Peterson and Sherry O'Boyle who modeled everything from coats and hats to ready-for-bed clothes.

The large hall made a perfect setting with palms and a long runway of red carpet. Mrs. Louis Hopke introduced the program. The staging committee was Mrs. George Bean, Mrs. Thomas Sables and Mrs. Richard Lutz.

Other models were Mrs. Claire Specht, Mrs. Anna Wright, Mrs. Floss Megargle, Mrs. Marilyn Besecker, Mrs. Sue Ellen Lee, Mrs. Mary Jane Kresge, Mrs. Lillian Zepel, Mrs. Betty Palo, Mrs. Shirley Lansdowne and Mrs. Wanda Altemose.

The hall was filled to capacity by members and their friends. Music and a buffet luncheon added to the show. Mrs. E. O. Headrick and her committee served refreshments.

Hostesses appointed for October are Mrs. Merten Kresge, Mrs. David Kohn, Mrs. Peggy Kohn, Mrs. Robert Lansdowne, Mrs. John Litzanich and Mrs. James Horne.

Sewing Circle Moves Outdoors To Beat Heat

The heat didn't beat members of the Wednesday Sewing Circle of the East Stroudsburg Methodist Church who merely moved their sewing session out doors at the home of Mrs. Barnett Marvin, West Broad St.

The group completed its quota of nine dozen bed pads for the visiting nurses and two dozen for Dr. Nina Price and shared a time of good fellowship.

The luncheon menu included grilled hamburgers, homemade baked beans and cake.

Present were Mrs. Myrtle Marvin, Susie Slutter, Helen Lesoine, Ann Tollman, Christina Albert, Jennie Clifton, Lydia Bishop, Adeline Johnson, Blanche Shafer, Clara Malzan, Grace Friant, Maggie Shields, Natalie Burger, Stella Plattenburg, Mabel Martin, Autumn Haupt, Pearl Mering, Margaret Smith, Doris Garland and the hostess, Hazel Marvin.

Picnic Greet Visitors From Cleveland Here

A picnic was held on Tuesday night at the East Stroudsburg Playground in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Funk and daughter, Tami, of Cleveland, Ohio, who have been visiting Mr. and Mrs. William Funk of Stroudsburg for a week. This is the first visit home in about three years.

Others attending were: Mr. and Mrs. Robert Funk and daughter Tami of Cleveland and their son, Robbie Funk of Stroudsburg; Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Transue, East Stroudsburg; Mr. and Mrs. William Funk, Stroudsburg; Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Martz and daughters, Nina Marie and Brenda Ann and guest of East Stroudsburg; Howard Dittus and daughters, Mary and Kathy and son, Stephen, East Stroudsburg.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Funk and daughters, Janice and Jody and sons, Clay and Kevin, Stroudsburg; Mr. and Mrs. Howard Funk and daughter, Sulin, East Stroudsburg; Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Cerino and sons, William and Anthony and daughters, Mary Eileen and Sandra Kay of Bangor;

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Martz Jr. and daughter, Barbara, and son, Stephen, East Stroudsburg; Mrs. Harold Werkheiser and sons, Gregory, Harold and Kent of East Stroudsburg.

Invited but unable to attend were Joseph Funk, Mrs. Howard Dittus and Harold Werkheiser.

New Stroud Union Parents At Orientation Program

The importance which parents are today placing on education was reflected in the attendance at the orientation program for parents of new students at Stroud Union Junior High School held in the auditorium this week.

Despite the hot, humid night the cafeteria was filled for the meeting.

Mrs. Estelle Fleming, of the Monroe County Tuberculosis and Health Society, spoke on the importance of the TB Testing program to be held after Christmas vacation and requested parent cooperation.

Samuel Wells, assistant principal, spoke on the problems of transportation. Stroud Union covers an area of 144 square miles, he said and 800 students are brought to the high school on 16 buses.

This year, the administration has improved the service for seventh and eighth graders by running three routes: Senior High route, elementary route and Junior High run. For Junior High students who must come on one of the earlier buses, the study hall is mandatory, he explained.

He also explained the attendance laws, emphasizing that because the district receives reimbursement from the state on the daily attendance, the laws must be strictly enforced.

Respect Study Time
Raymond Serfass, guidance director, praised the assistance given new students by members of the Junior Honor Society during their orientation day at the high school.

In speaking of homework and study habits, Serfass urged parents to help students by setting a time and proper place to study and by respecting that study time. He urged the use of assignment books to avoid the need for telephoning each other for assignments.

Serfass also encouraged both parents and students to go to the teachers for any additional help they might need.

"This year's crop of seventh graders are as eager and full of zip as those of other years," Alfred Munson, principal, assured the parents. He explained that seventh graders have been grouped so that they can learn together comfortably. There is accelerated or slow group in the seventh grade.

In eighth grade they are regrouped to make it possible for teachers to challenge each student to the limit of his ability. Munson also explained the problems of lack of classroom and lunchroom space.

Mrs. Andrew Keiser, president of the Parent-Teachers Assn., presided at the meeting inviting all parents to attend the first PTA meeting on Sept. 18 when Munson will speak on "Marks and Marking."

Copies of the Teen-age Code will be sent to the new parents for future reference, she said.

Band Mothers Schedule Benefit For New Year

New mothers of members of the East Stroudsburg High School bands were welcomed by Robert Zellner, director, at the opening meeting of the Band Mothers this week at the high school.

Zellner also thanked the mothers and members of the band for the trip and showing made at Atlantic City and discussed instrument needs for the year.

Mrs. Mary Cortright presided at the meeting with a large attendance of mothers.

It was announced that the profits from the August Ice Cream Festival had amounted to $466.83.

The following projects were scheduled for the year:

October: Calendar with Helen Poortstra, Anne Edinger and Charlotte Seese as chairmen.

Fall Rummage Sale, Mary Boushell and Dorothy Klingel, chairmen.

December Cake Walk with the date being arranged by Zellner.

Christmas cookie sale with Edith Flory, Charlotte Heimbach and Helen Poortstra and a Christmas Candy sale with the chairman still to be named.

Shrove Tuesday doughnut sale with Mary Sterner as chairman.

Named as sunshine lady for the year was Mrs. Lillian Heller and as publicity chairman, Mrs. Stella Plattenburg.

BEAUTIFUL LAKE at Blue Mountain Camps is ideal for swimming, boating, canoeing, fishing, as well as for gliding in sailboats or speeding in motorboats. Lake is surrounded by 500 acres of camp fields and playgrounds.

SCENE FROM "My Fair Lady", one of several musical shows produced on the Blue Mountain stage this Summer. Over 90 boys and girls took part in this play.

B M C FERRYBOAT (nicknamed the Mississippi Raft) transports the campers from Boys' Camp to Girls' Camp on opposite sides of the private Blue Mountain Lake.

Campers Honor Escolls At Close Of 41st Season

MR. AND MRS. MORRIS J. ESCOLL, founders and directors of Blue Mountain Camps for Boys and Girls at East Stroudsburg, were honored by their campers, counselors and staff at the camps' 41st annual banquet, held at the close of the camp season.

A leather album of Camp Life, containing the signatures of every person at camp, was presented to the Escolls as a token of the affection and esteem in which they are held by all children and adults at the camps, and of their gratitude for the Escolls' leadership during 41 summers of camping.

Everyone at camp contributed toward the purchase of this surprise gift and the remaining money was donated to the General Hospital at East Stroudsburg in the name of the Escoll Family.

Among local residents present at the banquet were Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Lord, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Miller, Mr. and Mrs. Norman Smith, Ed Miller, Mrs. Mae Cramer, Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Shoemaker, Mr. and Mrs.

Charles Moyer, Miss Mildred Kaul, and Mr. and Mrs. Claude Heeter. Most of them have worked at Blue Mountain Camps for many years, and several are second generation employees.

Forty-one years ago, when Mr. and Mrs. Escoll founded Blue Mountain Camps, the camp site was a vast wilderness on a mountain-top which looked down upon some of the most spectacular scenery in the Pocono Mountains.

Year after year, the Escolls have been developing and improving the camps, which now comprise 500 acres surrounding a beautiful 40-acre private lake.

There are separate camps for boys and girls on opposite sides of this lake. Each camp has its own extensive playgrounds, tennis courts, dining hall and recreation lodge. Each camp also has an extensive waterfront for swimming, boating and fishing, and there are miles of private trails around the lake for horse-back riding.

These camps have long been famous throughout the East for their facilities and their staff of camp leaders and educators.

The camp children come not only from the States of Pennsylvania, New Jersey and New York, but from such distant localities as Washington, D. C., Kentucky, Florida and Venezuela. They enjoy the exhilarating climate and scenery of the Poconos, as well as a variety of camp activities — land sports, water sports, and creative hobbies. They have wholesome fun and develop friendships which continue long after the summer season.

Throughout the years, these camps have had a remarkable record of health and safety. Blue Mountain Camps are proud also of another record which is unique among camps. This season, included among the campers were more than one hundred boys and girls who were "second-generation campers" — children whose parents were themselves campers at BMC in previous summers.

The banquet program included musical numbers from two of the plays that were produced at BMC this summer — "My Fair Lady" and Gilbert and Sullivan's "Iolanthe." The camp band played popular selections, and the campers sang spirited songs from the color-war song-contest held the week before.

Martha Escoll, who is associated with her parents in the management of the camps, gave a talk on the "Highlights of the Past Season" — a review of the thrilling activities, trips and special events which the campers enjoyed at Blue Mountain Camps this summer.

Ex - Stroudsburg Church Aide Named To College Post

EASTON — Three men have joined staffs of the office of admissions, library, and office of buildings and grounds at Lafayette College beginning this month.

They are Charles E. Staples, assistant director of admissions; Donald N. Matthews, assistant librarian; and Alfred E. Letts, director of the physical plant.

Staples was born in Easton and is the son of Mrs. Helen Snyder Staples, 101 North Tenth St., and the late Paul W. Staples. He was an instructor in religion at Lafayette from 1955 to 1957 and assistant minister at the First Presbyterian Church, Stroudsburg, from 1957 to 1959.

For several months in 1959-60 Staples participated in an intensive training program in pastoral counseling at a Philadelphia hospital. He has served as supply preacher in a number of Presbyterian churches in eastern Pennsylvania and northern New Jersey during the past year.

A 1942 alumnus of Easton High

School, Staples earned an A.B. degree at Lafayette in 1946. He graduated with distinction at Harvard University in 1948, where he received a master's degree in business administration.

Advertising Research From 1948 to 1951 Staples was associated with advertising and sales research activities for the Philco Corp. He taught at the Harvard business school in 1951-52 before entering Princeton Theological Seminary, where he earned a B.D. degree in 1953.

Staples served with the Navy from 1944 to 1946.

Matthews graduated with an A.B. at Lafayette in 1953 and with a B.D. degree from Princeton in 1956. He did graduate work at Drew University and earned a master's degree in library science at Rutgers University in 1959.

Letts was director of the physical plant at Ball State Teachers College in Muncie, Ind. for ten years before accepting the same post at Lafayette.

Pitt Starts Colella In Miami Game

By GIB STALEY

PITTSBURGH (AP)—SAM Colella, 21, married and the father of a 3-month old daughter, gets the big opportunity of his football career Saturday against Miami when he starts at quarterback for the University of Pittsburgh.

Is Sam nervous about his first start on the fact he'll be performing before a nationwide television audience (ABC, 3:15 EST) as well as a packed house at the Orange Bowl?

"Nope," said Sam before he began a rigorous practice session Wednesday. "I regard this as an excellent opportunity for me. It's a challenge and I feel pretty good about it. We've got good spirit on this team."

Coach Johnny Michelosen tabbed Colella for the starting spot when his No. 1 quarterback, Jim Traficant, didn't recover fully from a leg injury suffered in a practice session two weeks ago.

Martha Will Play
"I expect to start Colella but Paul Martha also should see considerable action at quarterback," Michelosen said.

"Colella has shown quite a bit in practice," Michelosen added. "He's comparatively small for a quarterback but he's a good field general and he is a fair passer." Colella says he is actually 5 feet, 10 inches tall, instead of 5 feet, 9 inches, as listed in the Pitt brochure. "Heck, I weigh 175 pounds and I don't think I'm so small. You ask if I like to run or pass? Well, we have some run-pass option plays but I really enjoy passing."

Colella played high school football at suburban Baldwin Borough. After a year as Kiski Prep he played freshman football at Syracuse University. He said he sat out his sophomore season at Syracuse as Syracuse didn't want to use a year of eligibility then. Later he transferred to Pitt "because I realized I had made a

Upsets Claim Coe, Ward, Patton In National Am

By HAROLD CLAASSEN

Associated Press Sports Writer
PEBBLE BEACH, Calif. (AP)—Jack Nicklaus, at 21 a former champion, and Ireland's Joe Carr remained in the race for the National Amateur golf title after a double round of upsets Wednesday that eliminated Billy Joe Patton, Charlie Coe and Harvie Ward.

Nicklaus disposed of Bill Edwards of Garden City, N.Y., 5 and 4 in the morning round over the ocean-hugging Pebble Beach course that measures 6,747 yards, and then put out towering Dave Smith of Gastonia, N.C., in the afternoon, 2 and 1.

Dress Maker
Carr, a Dublin dress manufacturer, had it relatively easy in the morning with a 3 and 2 verdict over Urban Thompson of Tazana, Calif. He had to sweat it out all the way in beating Sam Marsh, 23, of Greenville, S.C.

Major upset victim of the fourth round was Patton, from Morganton, N.C. He eliminated Dan James of Millbrae, Calif., in the morning, 3 and 1, but was stopped by Dick Sikes, 20-year-old captain of the University of Arkansas links team, after lunch, 4 and 2. Morning reversals sent Coe and Ward, both former champions, into the discard. Coe lost to Gene Francis of East Williston, N.Y., and Purdue, 1 up, and Ward was eliminated by Dudley Wysong Jr., of McKinney, Texas, 4 and 3. Both Francis, 23, and Wysong, 32, won their four-round matches.

Two 18-hole rounds Thursday will provide the opponents for Friday's 36-hole semifinals. Saturday's final also is over the marathon route.

Nats Dump Bosox 4-2; Need Help

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Washington Senators, with Joe McClinton putting down a ninth-inning threat in relief of Ed Hobaugh, beat the Boston Red Sox, 4-2, Wednesday night for their second straight victory.

Hobaugh gave up only five hits over the first eight innings. Tracy Stallard started for the Red Sox and gave up two runs and only four hits in seven innings before being relieved for a pinch-hitter. He lost his fifth against two victories.

DeVivo Scores Hole-In-One

JOE DeVivo of Stroudsburg scored a hole-in-one at Glen Brook Country Club Sunday.

DeVivo used a seven-iron to ace the eighth hole, a 130-yarder. His tee shot rammed into the back of the cup, dug a deep divot in the upper earthy portion of the hole and dropped down into the cup.

DeVivo was playing with Dr. A. Donatelli, Dave Coturro and Joe Angelin.

East Stroudsburg High Picked To Win Loop Title

PROBABLY the biggest thing that scares a coach when his team is a pre-season pick for top honors, is that his club will get over-confident.

And the second biggest thing is that the other team will have a built-in stimulus for knocking off that top club.

Such is the plight of Jack Kist of East Stroudsburg High School, which opens its season Saturday night against Slatington at Memorial Stadium.

The Cavaliers are heavy pre-season favorites to win the Lehigh-Northampton League and while Kist appreciates the honor, he is not sure how it will affect his team.

Early Warning
Even before the Cavaliers took the field for their first practice in August, Kist warned his players that they would have to win their games on the field not on pre-season billing.

Kist has continued to drive that point home in recent weeks. "If the Cavaliers are over-confident, it hasn't shown. In fact Kist's squad has worked hard getting ready for its opener, perhaps because it wants to live up to its favorite role. For there is one thing worse than being picked as a pre-season favorite. That's being picked as the team to beat and then falling flat on your face."

Rain Cancels Yanks-Chisox

CHICAGO (AP)—Rain forced postponement of Wednesday night's New York-Chicago White Sox game in the top of the third inning with the Yankees leading 2-1 and Roger Maris at bat.

The rainout immediately was rescheduled as part of a double-header Thursday, starting at 2:30 (EDT).

Maris, who has hammered 56 home runs and is three games ahead of Babe Ruth's record 60 homer pace of 1927, singled in the first, then took a ball and fouled off a pitch by right-hander Don Larsen in the third before time was called.

Teammate Mickey Mantle, three games behind Ruth with 53 homers, came to bat only once.

Whichever way the Cavaliers go, they will do it with a veteran team and one of the most feared running attacks in this part of the State.

Speedy Backs
The Cavalier backfield will open with junior Jack Van Horn at quarterback, Brian (Flying) Farris and Harold (Mach 2) Myers at halfbacks and Dave Harmon at fullback.

Harmon and defensive center guard Allan Schell are probably the most improved players on the squad.

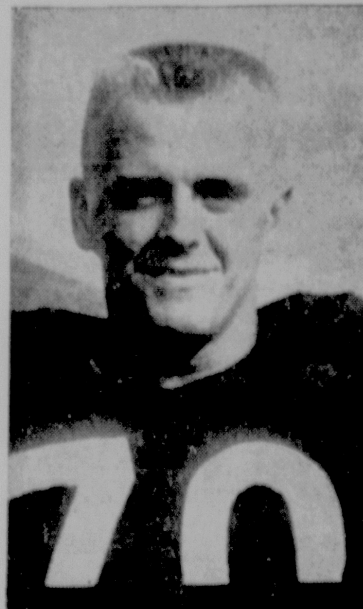

Harmon worked out during the summer and reported on opening day at 160 pounds, 30 pounds under his weight of last season.

The weight loss not only helped Harmon's speed but it earned him a place in the starting backfield, when it looked as if he might spend the season as a reserve center.

Always Threats
Farris and Myers are the type of runners that can go the distance any time they touch the ball. The two are particularly dangerous on punt and kick-off returns.

Van Horn is also in the most improved category. The 6-1 junior is a much better ball handler this season and his passing has picked up.

Kist will have Harry Van Vliet and Earl Palmer at ends on his offensive unit.

Mounties Only Local Club Picked To Lose By Board

ALL local football teams except Stroud Union are picked to win in the opening week of the Daily Record's "Guess-Pert" selections.

However, Stroud Union received two of the five nods from the board of guessers. City Editor Bob Clark, who was the top "Guess-Pert" last season and managing editor Jack Hill, selected Stroud Union, which meets Lehighton on the road Friday night.

East Stroudsburg High School, which faces Slatington Saturday night and Plus X, which goes against St. Michael Sunday, are the only local teams picked unanimously.

Friday Games

Bangor and East Stroudsburg

State College missed by one of getting the board's complete approval. Bangor hosts Parkland Friday night and East Stroudsburg State takes on Millersville Friday night at Gordon Giffels Field.

In other games on the college front, Pitt is a 4-1 choice over Miami of Florida and Richmond University, with East Stroudsburg's Bill Sommers quarterbacking, is a 3-2 choice over powerful West Virginia.

Area Help Urged For Carla Victims

RECALLING emergency assistance that flowed into northeastern Pennsylvania following the Hurricane Diane disaster of August, 1925, the Northeast Pennsylvania Industrial Development Commission yesterday urged regional organizations to provide whatever assistance is possible to the victims of Hurricane Carla now battering Texas and Louisiana.

Victor C. Diehm, NPIDC president, dispatched the following wire to U. S. Senators Joseph S. Clark and Hugh J. Scott, regional congressmen and other key agencies.

"Northeastern Pennsylvania shares with the President and the Congress all national grief over the great losses suffered by Texas and Louisiana as Hurricane Carla continues to roar.

"We know that the President with the cooperation and support of the Congress will assist this stricken area in every manner possible. We are aware of the work already going on at the height of the storm by the American Red Cross.

Know Tragedy
"We know the tragedy and the chaos which accompanies and follows hurricanes and flooding since only back in 1955 this area was hit hard by nature. Likewise, surface subsidence have and are taking their heavy toll in property damage.

"Therefore, today our organization is urging every regional service club, veterans organizations, church group to offer and execute an assistance program through their counterpart in the stricken district or through regional chapters of the American Red Cross.

"We deeply appreciate the national concern demonstrated during our difficulties and we want Texas and Louisiana to know of our awareness of their plight."

Diehm said that Pennsylvania's congressional representatives deserved heavy congratulations for their prompt and spirited action pledging assistance to Texas and Louisiana in the disaster.

Miss Haigh Attending Band Camp

MISS LINDA M. Haigh, Stroudsburg, is attending Bucknell University's 10th annual Band Camp in the Pocono Mountains, which began Sept. 9. This was announced by Allen W. Flock, director of the well-known B. U. musical organization.

Miss Haigh, who plays the French horn, has joined 87 other Bucknell musicians for an intensive six-day schedule of rehearsals prior to the opening of college and the start of the University's 77th year of intercollegiate football.

Located at Camp Pocono Ridge, near South Sterling, the Bison Band Camp is one of the few co-educational programs of its kind conducted for college students in the United States.

Miss Haigh, who will be a member of this year's freshman class, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert B. Haigh, 15 South Eighth St. She is a graduate of Stroud Union High School.

Murder Trial Jury Is Formed

DADE CITY, Fla. (AP)—Selection of a jury began yesterday for the first-degree murder trial of Terry Gaddy, 21-year-old Negro charged with stabbing a white woman to death at Zephyrhills seven months ago.

Circuit Judge Richard Kelly set aside two days for the trial.

Gaddy was arrested Feb. 9, the day after the body of Mrs. Ruth Bolt, 34, was found in the driveway of her home. Sheriff's deputies said the woman had been stabbed 31 times.

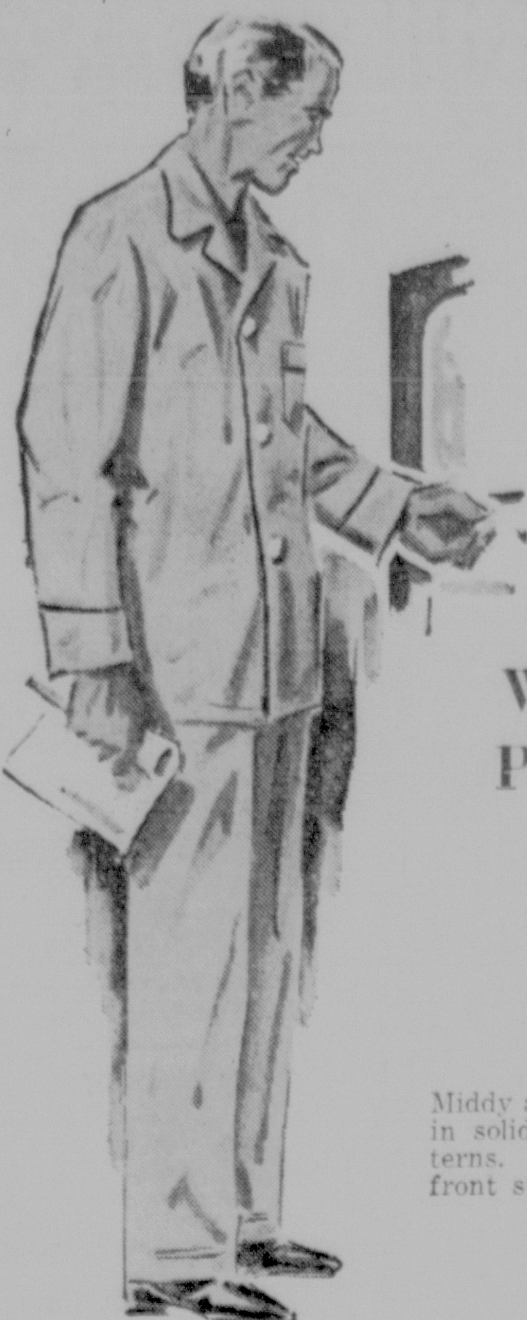

Gaddy pleaded guilty of theft of an automobile which officers said was the getaway car, but he pleaded innocent to a charge of killing Mrs. Bolt. Sheriff Leslie Bessinger said robbery apparently was the motive.

The defendant, who said he had a ninth-grade education, had been employed as a citrus grove worker.

Appeals For Aid

DAR-ES-SALAAM, Tanganyika. (AP)—Prime Minister Julius Nyerere has issued a manifesto appealing to other nations to help Tanganyika conserve its wildlife by contributing funds and technical aid.
